

Madison overstated school attendance — state

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Official letters ordering the Madison School District to "cease and desist" from submitting false attendance figures for Madison schools to the state and to correct allegedly improper bidding procedures were served on Madison Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday by Frank Duko of the Madison County state's attorney staff.

State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron said a study by the Illinois State Police, the Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI), the Illinois Office of Education and his office has shown that the district has "substantially overstated its attendance figures." In Byron's words, to collect more than $140,000 and perhaps as high as $270,000 more in state aid than that to which it was entitled. State aid is distributed on the basis of average daily attendance by students.

Byron said the DCI investigation showed "considerable discrepancies" between the actual attendance figures and the figures reported to the state as the average daily attendance in some of the district's schools, in the last two years, particularly at the high school.

There also were indications the state will deduct the overpaid amount from next year's state aid to the district, if it is finally determined the school district owes the money to the state.

Palchiff refused yesterday afternoon to show the letters to the Press-Record or to comment on them, saying that only two school board members had seen the letters, at that time, and he did not want them made public until the entire board had had an opportunity to study them. He said the issue will be discussed in public at tonight's board of education meeting and the letters will be made public then, if the board approves.

The board meets at 7:30 tonight in the Wensel L. Brown Building, 1707 Fourth St.

Byron said his office is not contemplating criminal action against any administrators, staff or members of the board of education, and stated, "We are satisfied there was nothing personal to be gained in any of this and we are happy that is the situation."

"However," he added, "although the district has had financial difficulties the state statutes must be complied with."

The letters served on Palchiff Tuesday afternoon demand that Palchiff and the board of education inform Byron's office by Oct. 15 what actions the district plans to take to rectify the problems.

"We are giving them a chance to take corrective actions and clean up the whole darn thing," Byron told the Press-Record. He said he has not dealt with the board of education or conferred personally with Palchiff, but said the letters were directed to Palchiff, "because the superintendent is the one responsible for running the day-to-day operations of the school district, not the board."

Byron said the letters direct Palchiff to "take appropriate corrective action immediately."

Commenting on the letter dealing with bidding procedures, Byron said, "The DCI noted a bidding technical irregularity. It found no personal impropriety. The irregularity the agents found actually was to the benefit of the school district, but it is a violation of statute and must be corrected," he stated.

Ron Grimming, supervisor of the fraud and forgery unit of the Department of Criminal Investigation, who oversaw the study and audit of the Madison School District's books, said that if Byron has decided not to pursue criminal prosecution, "There is not much else we can do."

However, he predicted, "There is little question the state school board will endeavor to collect from the district the amount of money they felt was misappropriated, which should be a substantial amount of money."

Grimming also said, "During our investigation, we received information from several persons, including officials, that these activities (submitting inflated enrollment figures) may have been going on as long as 14 years, in terms of their reporting procedures. However, we only looked back the last two years."

Late in the investigation, Grimming said, interviews indicated "that perhaps the bidding process, as specified by state law, was not properly adhered to. It did not appear to be a situation where the school district intentionally circumvented the statute, but was probably done by error, in our opinion."

'Maintenance crisis' facing school voters in GC

By BILL WINTER

of the Press-Record

A school building maintenance crisis has developed in the Granite City community unit district, requiring a 34-cent rate authorization in special voting Saturday, Oct. 25, the local prayer breakfast has told Wednesday.

The proposed tax rate change from $3.35 to $3.69 per $100 valuation is less than the 37.2-cent decrease achieved a year ago through retirement of past construction bonds and interest.

Superintendent of Schools Bob J. Davis noted.

The 34 cents consists of 24 cents to retire a new $2,900,000 bond issue and 10 cents to increase the building fund's rate limit from the present 37½ cents to 47½ cents (still below the 75 cents permitted by the state and below the 50 cents automatically available in areas served by dual school systems), Davis said.

A 34-cent rate hike on a $30,000 home assessed at $10,000 would cost $34 a year, $2.83 a month or nine cents a day, he estimated.

"While management by objectives is the procedure followed in other phases of the educational program, management by crisis has become the pattern in building maintenance and repair," the speaker commented.

"For healthful, safe, pleasant and attractive conditions for the school children, a 'Yes' vote is needed on Oct. 25."

"We are limited now to only two percent of our yearly building fund revenue for maintenance, and this is far below what is required. The other 98 percent goes for such operating costs as wages, utilities and insurance."

Presenting photographic slides of existing structural deterioration, Supt. Davis said it is proposed to spend $1,109,000 at Granite City High School South, $268,000 at Johnson School, $176,000 at Coolidge Junior High, $147,000 at Granite City High School North, $128,000 at Mitchell School, $122,400 at Grigsby Junior High School and $120,500 at Namekiki School.

Also part of the $2,900,000 general obligation bond program are projects totaling $95,000 at Niedringhaus School, $76,500 at Marshall School, $54,000 at Frather Junior High School, $52,000 at Webster School, $35,000 at Logan

School, $32,000 at the Board of Education office, $31,000 at Emerson School, $27,200 at Maryville School, $17,800 at Frohardt School, $11,200 at Wilson School, $9,200 at Lake School, $6,200 at Parkview School, $2,000 at the Pre-School Center, $30,000 for electrical work in the district and $30,000 for fees and contingencies.

The pictures of conditions targeted for improvement showed roofs leaking, causing "bucket brigades" in some schools and damaged ceilings, walls and floors. Roof work already done at Frather has provided better insulation and made classrooms cooler in warm weather, Davis told the gathering.

Windows rotting in old schools are to be replaced by aluminum windows, and incandescent lighting is to be replaced by fluorescent fixtures, conserving energy use, he related. Wall cracks are to be repaired, brick surfaces luck pointed, and guttering and downspouts replaced.

Defective plumbing, leaking cast-iron radiators, cafeterias with extensive ceiling damage, and outmoded science

Karandjeff elected as president of Chamber

By BILL WINTER

of the Press-Record

Ernest A. "Drew" Karandjeff Jr., executive vice-president of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, was elected last night as 1980-81 president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

His father, E. A. Karandjeff Sr., and his grandfather, Henry D. Karandjeff, are past Chamber presidents here.

Karandjeff succeeds Kenneth L. Evers, local Illinois Bell Telephone Co. manager, in the top Chamber office.

The new Chamber president, employed at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank for the past nine years, is a graduate of Granite City High School, Illinois Wesleyan University, the American Institute of Foreign Trade and the Graduate School of Banking.

He served in the Army for three years. A past president of the Rotary Club, he resides in Granite City with his wife Joni and their children, Andrew and Kelley.

Replacing Karandjeff as Chamber first vice-president was William P.

Donovan, works manager of the American Steel Foundries' Granite City plant.

Elected as second vice-president last night was David Knollman of First Granite City Savings and Loan, succeeding Clyde E. Beinhorn of Rite Electric Co.

Lawrence P. Dunn of Granite City Steel was re-elected as Chamber treasurer.

The Chamber manager, James Livingston, holds the office of executive vice-president.

During the October board meeting, held at Charlie's Restaurant, nine elected to the board for three-year terms were seated, and the group heard a talk by Granite City School Superintendent B. J. Davis.

Supt. Davis discussed the school bond issue to be held Oct. 25, outlining proposed building renovations and repairs.

Starting three-year terms as Chamber board members are Melvin C.

Five charges filed in beating and rape of 17-year-old girl

Five felony charges in connection with the severe beating and rape of a 17-year-old Pontoon Beach girl in the 2000 block of Ohio Avenue early Saturday were filed Monday afternoon against Anthony Ronald Robert Chepley, 22, of 2026 Ohio Ave.

The Madison County state's attorney's office authorized charges of attempted murder, rape, deviate sexual assault, armed robbery and aggravated battery against Chepley and formalized the charges in informational documents Monday afternoon. His bond was set at $250,000.

He appeared before Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand at 5:05 p.m.

Monday and pleaded innocent to the charges. A mittimus then was issued for his transfer to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Chepley, who had been held in the Granite City Jail since Saturday morning, was transferred to the county jail at Edwardsville at 4:20 a.m. Tuesday, in lieu of bond.

The victim was listed in serious, but stable, condition at St. Elizabeth Medical Center this week. She required approximately 70 stitches to close cuts to her head and face. She also suffered a broken nose and numerous bruises and scrapes, authorities said.

Police allege that Chepley met the victim at a party in West Granite Friday night and she agreed to walk with him to his home. After meeting his mother, the two went for another walk and went into a vacant house near Chepley's home, where she was raped, according to police reports.

She alleges that her attacker held a knife to her throat and threatened to kill her, if she did not cooperate. He bent her repeatedly with his fists while raping her, she told authorities.

The victim said she lost consciousness several times and when she awoke once, the man was standing over

2 charged in armed robbery in Lee Park

Informational documents charging a man and woman arrested by Venice police after an armed robbery were issued Monday by the Madison County state's attorney's office.

Charged with armed robbery were Taneka D. Williams, 22, of St. Louis and Elroy Newsome, 19, of 808 Mercedia Ave., Venice. Both were released to sheriff's deputies at 5 a.m. Tuesday and transferred to Madison County Jail.

The charges stemmed from an incident at 3:15 p.m. Friday when a Pontoon Beach man came into the Venice police station and reported he had been robbed a few minutes earlier by a man and woman in Lee Park.

Venice officers searched an area on the east side of the park and took into custody Miss Williams and Newsome in an alley not far from the station.

The victim, 61, had picked up the pair hitch-hiking near the Granite City Army Installation and gave them a ride to Lee Park, he told police.

Once inside the park, the motorist alleged the woman stuck a weapon in his side and told him to get out of the car, which he did.

Then, the woman allegedly asked for the victim's wallet which he gave to her. Afterward, he ran through the park to the police station, he told officers. The man's vehicle was recovered in the park, police said.

Postal inspectors check for fraud

Consumer complaints about work-at-home promotions that take money from those who can least afford it have prompted the Postal Service to assign 18 postal inspectors to spend all their time investigating that type of fraud, according to Postmaster Jack D. Wilkins.

The postmaster made the announcement in connection with Consumer Protection Week, Oct. 6-11. Although reluctant to label all work-at-home promotions fraudulent, Wilkins said the Postal Inspection Service has yet to find an envelope stuffing offer that is legitimate.

"Postal inspectors haven't been able to identify a single operation that produces anywhere near the kind of income claimed in most advertising," Wilkins said. "My advice is to avoid them all."

The goal of the nationwide assignment of postal inspectors concentrating all their efforts on work-at-home investigations is to shut down all operations that are fraudulent or misleading.

"It's an ambitious goal," Wilkins said, "but postal inspectors are a tenacious group." Since last October their efforts have resulted in stopping more than 500 questionable work-at-home promotions resulting in savings of thousands of dollars to the public, he added.

In addition to stepping up their investigative efforts, a pamphlet outlining the pitfalls of work-at-home promotions has been prepared by the Inspection Service. Available in post offices, the pamphlet contains a detachable card for providing inspectors information about questionable promotions.

Wilkins explained that the postage

Charged with resisting police

Robert J. Sharp, 27, of 2101 Terminal Ave., was released on $240 cash bond at noon Monday, charged with damaging city property, aggravated assault on a police officer, and resisting arrest after an incident in the old cemetery behind Kirkpatrick Homes at 2:20 a.m. Monday.

Police allege that Sharp and Jimmy Marrs, 34, of 4207 Kirkpatrick Homes, were riding a motorcycle which failed to negotiate the curb on East 25th Street at Charles Street and slid into the cemetery.

Marrs, who was driving the cycle, suffered a broken right shoulder in the accident. When police arrived, Marrs was unconscious and Sharp allegedly refused to talk to officers. He would not give his name or cooperate, so Patrolman Douglas Law grabbed his arm, to get his attention, officers said.

Sharp allegedly pushed Law away and force was required to subdue and handcuff him. He also allegedly refused to get into the squad car and officers used more force to get him into the car.

At the police station, Sharp allegedly refused to aid in the booking procedure and force was used to book and lodge him. Later he was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, but he allegedly refused to cooperate with emergency room personnel and he was taken to jail, police said.

After he calmed down, officers took him back to the emergency room, where he was treated, it was alleged. Marrs went to the emergency room at 11 a.m. Monday and was treated for the broken right shoulder. He later was released.

Arrest 5 men on drug indictments

Five Quad-City area residents are in custody and two more are sought in a series of drug arrests conducted by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southern Illinois (MEGSI), which began Monday.

MEGSI Executive Director Richard Woods said the arrests center around cocaine and marijuana sales made by undercover agents during the last several months.

"Marijuana use is on the rise all over and we want to let everyone know it's still against the law. I am concerned because it is filtering down into the third and fourth grade," Woods said, indicating MEGSI will concentrate more on cannabis this fall, trying to stop the larger sellers and distributors.

Woods made the comments during a meeting of the Crime Prevention Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon.

At the same time, a Madison County grand jury was in session returning indictments against seven local persons on a total of 12 drug-related charges from MEGSI investigations.

Woods did not mention the grand jury session during his talk, but the indictments became known as the arrests began Monday.

Granite City police assisted MEGSI agents Monday in seeking George A. Szerjinski, 23, of 2820 Pershing Ave., who surrendered at the police building at 2:10 p.m. Monday on a warrant alleging delivery of cannabis. His bond is set at $25,000.

At 9:05 p.m. Monday, MEGSI agents and Granite City officers went to the apartment of Jay Schmitz, 22, of 2285A Delmar Ave., where he was arrested on warrants alleging delivery of a controlled substance (cocaine) and delivery of marijuana. His bond is set at $50,000.

Meanwhile, Madison County Sheriff's Department deputies were assisting in the arrests of Paul Dale, 27, of Chouteau Island, Gary Smith, 24, of Rural Route Two, Box 1175, and James M. Shumate, 24, of 3204 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Dale is charged with two counts of delivery of marijuana and his bond is $50,000. Smith is charged with delivery of cannabis and was held in lieu of $35,000.

STEEL LOSSES SEEN
Most steelmakers are expected to report financial losses for the third and fourth quarters of 1980. U.S. Steel is nearing an agreement with the federal government to drop the firm's "steel dumping" suit against seven European producers, in return for restoration of the steel import trigger-price mechanism, later deadlines for some environmental regulations, accelerated investment depreciation, and federal help with research and development.

Seniors to pick apples Monday in Grafton area

Seniors citizens residing in Granite City are invited to make an apple-picking trip to the Grafton area, Monday, Oct. 6, with chartered buses leaving the Granite City Township Center, 2600 Delmar Ave., at 10 a.m.

The excursion is being financed with funds donated by Granite City CB clubs, which raised the money by sponsoring an annual "CB Jamboree" in late August.

Proceeds from the jamboree were donated to the Shriner's hospital and to Granite City Township for use in senior citizens' activities.

Although the outing may be enjoyed without cost to the participants, seniors wishing to take part are required to make seat reservations for the buses, Nelson Hagman, township supervisor, said this week.

Reservations will be accepted prior to 12 noon, Sunday, Oct. 5, by calling 877-8584.

Already, Hagman noted, a total of 97 seniors has signed up for the trip.

Seniors also are asked to bring along a sack lunch for a picnic lunch at Pere Marquette State Park. Beverages will be available at the Pere Marquette Lodge.

After lunch, the buses will continue to Eckert's Orchard at Grafton for the apple picking, Hagman said.

Thief released

Venice police were notified by Illinois Central Gulf Railroad authorities at 10:55 a.m. Saturday that an auto, believed loaded with stolen railroad items, was eastbound on Broadway in Venice.

Police stopped the car, obtained the driver's permission to search the trunk and located numerous metal plates, spikes and other items in the trunk, according to official reports.

The metal was returned to the railroad and the driver was released without charges being filed, after railroad detectives declined to sign warrants against him.

Contenders for county's auditor post

ARTHUR FIELDS

LARRY WEST

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Arthur P. "Pete" Fields, 33, Glen Carbon Democrat, and Larry C. West, 46, Alton Republican, are the Madison County auditor rivals in the Nov. 4 general election.

Fields holds the county auditor position by appointment, having succeeded veteran Auditor John L. Kravink. West is employed at McDonnell Aircraft as supervisor of administration for the AV-BAC Harrier airplane project.

First assistant to the county auditor prior to advancing to the auditor position this year, Fields is married and the father of two children.

He received a bachelor of science degree in business administration at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and has taken postgraduate courses in marketing and finance at SIUE as well as doing postgraduate study at Sangamon State University, working toward a master of business administration degree.

He holds a United Airlines recognition certificate for "perceptive action" and is a registered practitioner in advanced office controls. He was trained in operational auditing at the Institute of Internal Auditors, Key Biscayne, Fla.

A lifelong Madison County resident, Fields has over ten years of experience.

He comments, "My experience has included departmental management, financial analysis and management, budget and salary control, staff training and development, marketing and sales experience, systems development and implementation, internal auditing, customer and employee relations, and data gathering and analysis."

His work history has consisted of:—Supervisor trainee, Owens-Illinois, 1968-71.

—Audit and procedures analyst, Automobile Club of Missouri, 1971-72.

—Administrative assistant, Illinois state superintendent of public instruction, 1972-73.

—Operational auditor, 1973-75, and personnel manager, 1975-76, Automobile Club of Missouri.

—Owner and franchise operator of Charles Chips of Western Illinois beginning in 1976.

Fields is credited with success in increasing manpower efficiency and reducing personnel costs, through the elimination of duplication and streamlining of operating procedures.

At the Automobile Club, he established an operational audit system and developed a comprehensive salary administration program.

He established a market for Charles Chips products and exercised marketing, managerial, accounting and inventory controls during a period that saw sales grow by more than $10,000 in two years.

In the county auditor office, which has become a "watchdog" on a variety of governmental procedures, his objectives have included encouraging the investment of idle funds and fostering the improvement of overall efficiency.

His ballot rival in November, West, is married and the father of seven children. He has a degree in business, with a concentration in accounting.

West performed auditing duties while in the Army. He was a tax consultant in private business, and served as a business teacher at the junior high, high school and college levels.

He is in management at the McDonnell firm, St. Louis County, where he has been employed for the past 18 years.

West initially was a technical writer for McDonnell and progressed through various levels of administrative planning, budgeting and cost control responsibilities before becoming Harrier administration supervisor.

Active in community, church and civic organizations, he has served on the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Alton School Board and as a deacon of the First Presbyterian Church of Alton.

A former member of the Alton Band and Orchestra Builders, former coach of Little League athletics and past Parent-Teacher Association president, West served as treasurer of the Alton Area Athletic Association and as an assistant scoutmaster in the Boy Scouts.

At present, he is on the Alton High School parent advisory committee. The Republican auditor nominee told the Press-Record, "When elected, I intend to work with the County Board in order to expedite the processing of all communications in a timely and efficient manner."

"I will group the multiple office accounts in order to cut spending, and will work with all personnel in reducing and eliminating waste."

"I will work to improve the efficiency of county office operations and to minimize the tax burden on Madison County residents, while retaining needed services," West concluded.

Series on stress, other health topics

A series of free lunchtime seminars for anyone who needs to know more about staying healthy will begin this month at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Rosetta Koonce, Health Service counselor and coordinator of the series, said the monthly meetings will help people help themselves by teaching them to deal with potential health problems — from disease and drug interaction to birth control or nutrition and weight control.

The series is sponsored by the University Health Service and the Rap Room.

Dr. Fay Starr, SIUE psychology professor, will open the series Oct. 8 with "Who's in Charge Here?" a lesson on stress. The session will meet in Room 7 of the University Center between 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

The series will continue Nov. 11 with "Drug Interaction," led by registered pharmacist Bonnie Kitowski; Dec. 4 with "Birth Control," by registered nurse and certified midwife Susan Lieber; and Jan. 13 with "Self Health Care," by registered nurses Helen Neolmer and Charlene Stroh.

Winter and spring quarter seminars are: Feb. 3, "Why Lab Tests are Necessary"; March 3, "Nutrition and Weight Control"; April 7, "First Aid"; and May 7, "Sexually Transmissible Diseases."

All sessions are free and open to students, faculty, staff and the general public. Rosetta Koonce said, "All they need to bring is a nutritious lunch and all the questions they can ask."

After the struggle, he allegedly picked up a portable radio and threw it at her, hitting her left knee and leg. She suffered a cut to her lower lip and swelling to the left side of her face, police reports said.

BENTON BURGLARY
About $60 worth of costume jewelry and a $15 wall clock were stolen from the apartment of Ada Davis, 2134 Benton St., last week, she told police. She said entry was gained by removing a screen from a window and then taking off the window fan to climb in. Officers said it was the fourth burglary she had reported recently.

Trailriders final show, to award honors Saturday

The Trailriders Saddle Club of Granite City will hold its final show of the 1980 riding season at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the club arena on Chouteau Slough Road, at Rock Road, near the Chain of Rocks Canal levee.

The public is invited to attend.

Highlighting Saturday's "Fun Show" will be the presentation of high point trophies and reserve champion ribbons to outstanding riders of the past season, according to Kathy Baigial, club secretary.

Trailriders have been competing for points throughout the season in various riding events.

Those who have accumulated the highest number of points in a specific category of competition are declared champion and will receive a trophy, Miss Baigial said.

A "Fun and Point Show" was held last week at the arena, with Danny Bowman and his daughter, Janetta, club winning multiple events.

Miss Bowman, riding Little Budd, took blue ribbons in three events: junior poles, junior barrels and junior plug race.

Her father, riding Cody, won first places in four categories—senior poles and senior barrels and the open flag and senior plug race.

Double winners at last week's show were:

Scott Marks on Charlie, pony poles and pony barrels;

Caroline Smith on Warmie's Fine Pine, haltering (mares) and western western pleasure.

Lloyd Heiney on King Cole, gallop and country pleasure and fox trotting; Kathy Reuter on Hank Five, ladies western pleasure and open western pleasure; Jackie Brooks on Hanky.

Hanky, open barbed pleasure, and showing Double Te, haltering (geldings).

Scoring first place in single events were: Chrissy Woodward on Ringo, pony pleasure; Barb Allen showing Tina's Jet Pet, haltering (stallions).

Gene Carter on Hanky Panky, men's western pleasure; Kathy Baigial on Rex, ladies gallop country pleasure.

Ex-husband Is arrested

Irvin Al Parrott, 23, of 1708 Lake St., Ponton Beach, was arrested in the 1700 block of Delmar Avenue last week Friday and was charged in complaint signed by his ex-wife with battery.

He allegedly struck Paul Parrott, 1708 Cleveland Blvd., on the face several times with his fist after the two struggled over possession of a .22 caliber handgun.

After the struggle, he allegedly picked up a portable radio and threw it at her, hitting her left knee and leg. She suffered a cut to her lower lip and swelling to the left side of her face, police reports said.

ARREST ON WARRANT
John Hartline, 21 of 3814 Lake St., Ponton Beach, was arrested by Madison County sheriff's deputies last week on a warrant alleging delivery of a controlled substance. The warrant was served at his home by deputies and agents from the Illinois State Police, Division of Criminal Investigation. He was taken to the Madison County Jail.

Preschool center opens new season

The Title I Preschool Center at 2425 Logan Ave., had its first meeting of the school year last week. Mrs. Ruth D. Lahr, director Title I, ESEA, welcomed the parents and introduced the preschool staff.

Mrs. Emalou Boyer, preschool teacher, presented a program of slides about the preschool program and a film depicting a trip to the apple orchard. She later entertained questions from the group concerning the slides and film. Many parents participated in the discussion.

Mrs. Cecilia Hanrahan, preschool nurse, discussed her involvement in the program and asked the parents to express their desire for future programs by filling out a questionnaire which listed several choices. The officers elected to serve on the Parent Advisory Council for the Preschool Center were: Rev. Clayton E. Moorman, president, and Mrs. Jeri Wilcutt, secretary.

Rev. Moorman was also elected to represent the Preschool Center on the District Title I Parent Advisory Council.

There were 84 parents in attendance at the meeting.

RELIANT STATION WAGON, one of Chrysler's new front-wheel drive K-cars, now on display at Granite Chrysler Plymouth, 19th Street and Grand Avenue. The Reliant gets about 25 to 30 percent better fuel efficiency than the Volare which it replaces, dealer says.

Chrysler unveils new K cars

The new Chrysler "K cars" are now on display at Granite Chrysler-Plymouth, 19th Street and Grand Avenue, according to H.J. "Mat" Matson, dealer.

The Reliant, Chrysler's "new generation" of front-wheel-drive cars, went on display this week. "The initial reactions have been spectacular," Matson said, adding, "In 30 years of business, I have never seen a new car generate such interest."

Three body styles in the fuel-efficient Reliant are offered—two door sedan, four door sedan and the front-wheel-drive station wagon in America. The Reliant will improve fuel economy by 25 to 30 percent over the Volare. It is replacing it. It actually has more usable interior space than Volare, although the Reliant is about one foot narrower, two and one-half feet shorter and about 1,000 pounds lighter.

Standard engine is Chrysler's brand-new 2.2 liter four-cylinder overhead cam engine, titled the "Trans-4." The new engine and front wheel drive offer improved driveability, particularly through rain, snow and strong crosswinds.

Matson is inviting everyone to see the new Reliant and have him, Earl Glenn or Steve Rains demonstrate "the K cars, which are right for today's consumers."

Mental health advisory group plans clinic

The Madison-Venice Advisory Committee on Mental Health and Other Social Concerns met at the Venice City Council Chambers Thursday to hear Mrs. Ruth Bunch of the American Cancer Society.

She spoke about the purpose and procedures of an "I Quit Smoking" Clinic, specific types of speakers and group leaders needed, promotional procedures and victims and their withdrawal symptoms.

It was suggested that some of the committee members go to Mrs. Bunch's office in Collinsville to review some tapes, equipment, and other items.

Chairman James Harrell stressed the importance of putting together the Chairman's Planning Guide for the "I Quit Smoking" Clinic and setting a date to focus entirely on the guide. This will be accomplished at the next Advisory Committee meeting.

Dianne Ratliff reported that she talked to some school administrators regarding nominating students to participate on the Advisory Committee. Due to the fact that officers had not yet been chosen for the Student Councils, no names were submitted.

Propose converting SIUE, other state facilities to Illinois coal usage

Governor James R. Thompson announced Monday the Governor's Task Force on Energy Conservation and Coal Conversion has proposed conversion of Certain state facilities to Illinois coal use and implementation of energy conservation measures throughout state-operated facilities.

The task force was formed by Thompson in January to find ways to decrease the state's energy costs, expected to rise from $29 million in fiscal year 1978 to more than $82 million by fiscal year 1983.

"From an analysis of 94 of the state's largest facilities with central heating plants, 16 have been initially targeted as potential conversion projects," the governor said. Included is Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"If 10 of these facilities convert to coal, an estimated yearly saving of $18 million would be the result. In addition, 260,000 tons of Illinois coal would be consumed, which would represent a good beginning for the state in helping to reduce our dependency on fuel oil and natural gas."

Thompson said. "Illinois would be setting an example for the industrial, commercial and utility sectors to follow."

Headed by Samuel K.

Skinner, chairman of the Illinois Capital Development Board, the task force included Frank Beal, director of the Institute of Natural Resources, Michael Maury, director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, Robert Mandeville, director of the Bureau of the Budget, and Richard Carlson and Susan Young, assistants to the governor.

A three-phase coal conversion program recommended in the report includes:

—Conversion of the three boilers to coal at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, one of the state's largest physical plants. This $6.9 million project is funded by FY 1981 (1980-81) appropriations. Based on current use of natural gas, the conversion cost would be recovered in 18 months.

—Conversion of physical plants to coal at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, Western Illinois University, Macomb, and Illinois State University, Normal, if feasibility studies remain positive. Construction cost would be about $10 million to $12 million in FY 1982.

—Conducting feasibility studies on conversion of 12 state-operated facilities. They are Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, SIU at Edwardsville and Carbondale, University of Illinois Medical Circle Campus, Chicago, Dixon Developmental Center, Alton Mental Health Center, Shapiro Development Center at Kankakee, Mateno Mental Health Center, Tinley Park Mental Health Center, Chicago Read Mental Health Center, East Moline Correctional Center and Pontiac Correctional Center.

To meet Illinois standards for environmental protection, several systems exist that will permit use of high-sulfur Illinois coal within the standards, the task force report said.

In addition to the conversions, the task force recommended the following to increase the energy use efficiency of existing and planned state-operated facilities:

1. Conduct energy audits to determine cost-efficiency ways to lower energy consumption at all major state-run facilities as soon as practical, beginning with the university system.

2. Develop a comprehensive statewide energy conservation plan for all state agencies, including state energy management policies for energy reduction goals, performance target schedules and capital expenditures.

3. Action by the governor to require each state building complex to have an energy conservation coordinator to enforce conservation measures.

4. Exploration of the feasibility of appropriating energy operating and maintenance costs as separate line items in the state budget for each agency. Where cost-effective, state buildings would be metered for energy consumption, and a capital program created to fund meter installation.

5. A statewide computerized energy management system, explored as to its cost-effectiveness.

6. Establishment of a central coordinating authority by the governor to insure the state conservation and conversion program's success.

HAYRIDE and picnic sponsored by the Granite City Township last week for resident senior citizens drew a large crowd of about 200 to Wilson Park. A wiener and marshmallow roast was held at the newly built park shelter five near the ice rink. Hayrides were given around the park grounds on tractor-drawn trailers loaded with bales of hay and manned by park district personnel. At left, Jesse Schermer drives one group of seniors through the park. A band later provided music for dancing.

Cahokia airport growth endorsed

At its monthly meeting last week, the board of directors of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council endorsed a draft environmental impact assessment report on proposed developments at the Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia.

Proposed improvements include: extension of the primary runway from 5,500 feet to 7,000 feet; construction of a 3,500-foot parallel runway; construction of new taxiways, apron, hangar and tie-down areas; and acquisition of property for development and related improvements, including new runway and taxi lighting.

Bi-State Parks Airport is a designated reliever for air traffic for Lambert St. Louis International Airport. Current expansion of air carrier facilities at Lambert will limit that airport's ability to accommodate general aviation traffic.

The Bi-State airport will be expected by Gateway to handle the air traffic diverted from Lambert.

The proposed improvements will allow Bi-State to handle a bigger traffic load. Its volume is projected to increase from 188,000 in 1980 to 268,000 in 1985.

In other actions, the Gateway board:

—Approved a Federal Aviation Administration grant to undertake a study design for a St. Louis metropolitan area general aviation system study.

—Endorsed an application from the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission to continue its Low 208 water quality planning activities. SIMAPC is responsible for water quality planning in Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties in Illinois.

—Approved a request from the Bi-State Development Agency to amend the 1980-84 Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) and the 1980-84 Annual Element (AE) to include operating assistance funds of $24,000,000. The TIP designates projects which are to be started within a five-year period. The AE outlines projects that will begin within the first year of the TIP.

Frohardt PTA opens season

Frohardt School Parent Teacher Association held its first meeting of the 1980-81 school year last week with Principal and PTA President Gary Froehder introducing the staff and the PTA board members.

Vice-President Donna Pettilio discussed the programs planned for the coming year and ways and means, chairman, Linda McQuade announced that the candy sale had just ended and the candy would be delivered around the first of October. The budget for the coming year was approved.

The program consisted of several scout representatives describing the different scouting programs, sponsored by the PTA, that are available at Frohardt. Doris Votaw, representing the Girl Scout office, explained the need for adult volunteers in the Girl Scout and Brownie program and leader Diane Kinder told of the activities that Girl Scouts and Brownies participate in. Cub Scout Committee Chairman Pam Winn told of the activities boys can enjoy in the Cub Scout program. Parents were urged not only to let the children join the scouting programs but to actively participate. After the program, refreshments were served by the PTA board members.

2 seeking recorder of deeds office

RONALD LUCAS

JOSEPH YOUNG

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

For the important but relatively unglamorous office of recorder of deeds, Madison County voters will choose Nov. 4 between an eight-year incumbent and a veteran industrial employee with "34 years" experience in record-keeping and filing.

Opponents in the general election are Democrat Ronald P. "Risk" Lucas, currently seeking a third term, and Republican Joseph Lawrence Young, a resident of Cottage Hills.

Lucas, 41, mayor of Maryville since 1966, cites his eight years in the recorder office and "over 20 years of direct administrative experience at all levels of government."

He comments, "I initiated a microfilming program under which more than five million documents and records—for the county clerk, circuit clerk, county auditor and regional superintendent of schools, as well as the recorder's office, have been preserved. (The county treasurer office does its own microfilming.)"

"I have brought about an estimated saving of at least $400,000 for Madison County taxpayers through the policies I have established."

Young contends that an even better job can be done if he is elected as the new recorder.

He asserts, "I believe a full-time administrator is required to properly implement steps that will save taxpayer dollars and maintain quality service to the public. My experience and abilities qualify me as a capable candidate for the recorder office."

"My first action will be to conduct a thorough study of all aspects and functions of the office. Changes will be made to improve the efficiency and quality of the services rendered, where possible.

"I will continue the microfilming system, and will reduce costs through innovative and modern procedures that will best serve the needs of the public. I will cooperate fully with all departments that need our services, and will be available at all times as a full-time administrator."

Young adds more capital equipment only if it is shown that clear and long-term improvement in services would result and that the cost is justified. I will make every effort to limit costs.

Young continues, "Staff training will be initiated to assure the public that the personnel are kept abreast of the changes and that they can perform their duties efficiently and in a friendly manner."

Endorsed by Madison County Republican Chairman Edward Ragdale, Godfrey Supervisor Dwight E. Ruyle, Congressman Paul Findley and State Representatives Everett G. Steele and James Reilly, Young is retired. He is married and the father of four grown children.

Young spent two years with the Illinois Power Company, two years with the federal government and 30 years with the Olin Corporation.

His work at Olin consisted of keeping records for the quality control laboratory as an advanced grade metallurgical technician in research and development.

His November ballot opponent, Lucas, a lifelong resident of Maryville, attended grade school there and Collinsville High School.

He was a village trustee for five years before becoming mayor.

He is a former investigator on the staff of the Illinois secretary of state and a former member of Madison County and Illinois police groups.

A past president of the Madison County Young Democrats, Lucas is active in Maryville, county and Illinois firemen's associations, Democratic clubs in Maryville, Collinsville and Livingston, Moose Lodge 1351 and Our Mother of Perpetual Help Catholic Church.

He is a former member of Alton Teamsters Local 525 and of Laborers' Local 42 and Carpenters Local 295 in Collinsville.

During his tenure in the recorder office, the volume of work has risen sharply along with the revenue, providing an increasing amount of income for the county after deduction of costs. There are 18 employees.

Lucas notes that the massive filing task has been assured against fire, theft or loss of documents.

"The cost of storing property deeds, mortgages and other legal papers has been reduced, and the retrieval and copying of records has been speeded, he relates, adding that this has led to monetary savings and greater efficiency.

Savings include reduced book binding work and less need for installation of storage shelves. Filmed records are kept in a fireproof vault at the county seat, Edwardsville, with duplicate film rolls placed in archives at Springfield.

Lucas reports that he devotes virtually full time to the county position despite his duties in Maryville.

Trash collection begins 3rd week

The new trash collection system in Madison is working well in most areas, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk told the city council at their Tuesday night meeting.

A question on a steel trash barrels not being emptied was brought up by First Ward Alderman Paul Ashford.

Mayor Sasyk asked the aldermen when they detect a problem to sit down with the street superintendent and try and work out a solution.

The program began its third week, of six week trial, on Monday.

Sasyk noted that the city had a definite need to modernize the trash collection from an economic standpoint.

Third Ward Alderman Thomas Gordon was officially appointed the City of Madison representative to the desegregation committee of the Madison Community Unit District No. 12.

City Attorney Casper S. Nighossian reported to the council that a property owner was fined by the court $150 and cost for his failure to maintain property on Third Street.

The council awarded a contract to Duffin Brother of Madison for street crack filler. Duffin submitted the only bid at $247.50 a ton, in a 10 ton order.

The council was informed that effective Nov. 1 insurance rates would be raised. Individual coverage is being raised from $35.56 to $39.90; family from $94.90 to $106.97; and senior from $15.46 to $16.47.

Mayor Sasyk pointed out that even with the increase the city was paying higher rates than other companies four years ago.

First Ward Alderman Don Reeves said, "I think our City Comptroller Al Rucklidge should be complimented on the fine job he is doing in this complicated area of insurance."

The council approved $175 each for Madison Police Officers Gary Marsala and William Weidner to attend the Police Benevolent and Protective Association annual convention at Rockford, Ill.

A citizen complimented the Madison Police Department, in particular, Miss Phyllis Moore police dispatcher. Officers Frank Papa and Weidner on their "quick and professional response to a recent emergency at a Madison residence."

Permission was granted for the Madison Lions to set up a road block at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue for the Madison Police. The exact date in Madison has not been set.

CHARGE 2 IN THEFT Kenneth R. Jones, 36, St. Louis, and Randolph H. Vancil, 29, of 1634 Second St., Madison, were arrested last week and were charged in state complaints with theft. They allegedly removed a television set and other items from the home of Steve Reed, 1710 Cleveland Blvd. Reed reported the offense, originally classified as a burglary, Aug. 23.

Industrial production is up slightly (.05 percent) after six months of decline. —Output of construction supplies and consumer home goods climbed.

National housing starts were up 12 percent over July, though still well below last year.

Retail sales improved 1.5 percent in August, but car sales skidded again.

Unemployment in Illinois dropped from 9.8 percent in July to 8.6 percent in August.

The best news for most Illinois consumers: Self-service gasoline prices in the state dropped to their lowest average price since last February.

TAKES 3 COATS JoAnn Campbell, 25, Garesche Homes, Madison, told police at 6:22 p.m. Monday that three leather coats, valued at $400, had been stolen from her house.

Mrs. Regina Strode, 904 Jackson St., Madison, returned home from an out-of-town trip at 1:05 p.m. Monday and found an intruder had entered the dwelling by prying the lock from a door.

A total of $106 in food stamps was missing from a place where they had been well hidden, she told police.

REPAYMENT ORDERED Restitution of $4,457 and serving of 30 months' probation were ordered by Associate Judge John W. Day in sentencing Kathleen Susan Smith, 22, of 2372 E. 27th St. for felony theft occurring between November 1977 and May 1979.

Release suspect without charges

On the authority of the Madison County state's attorney's office, a man who allegedly pulled a door open after closing hours at Corral Lounge, 3304 rear Nameoki Road, Sunday was released Monday, pending further investigation.

The 25-year-old Sorrento, Ill., man allegedly hooked a chain to the front of his pickup truck and hooked the other end to the door handle at 3:30 a.m. When he backed the truck up, the door pulled open and the handle broke, police said.

Patrolman J.W. Apperson, who was working security at the Jack-in-the-Box Restaurant, heard the loud bang alarm and squealing tires and he saw the truck turning onto Nameoki Road at a high rate of speed, dragging a chain from its front end, he reported.

Apperson called for squad cars and then managed to stop the truck on Nameoki Road until the cars arrived, according to official reports.

The driver of the truck said he left his vest and $8 in cash in the lounge at closing time, but he denied pulling the door open to retrieve it.

He was lodged and detectives planned to apply with the state's attorney's office for a felony warrant against the man. Instead, the state's attorney's office recommended the man be released without charges, pending additional investigation. The county jail at Edwardsville was overcrowded, detectives were told.

Charged with having pistol inside auto

Maurice Wells, 29, East St. Louis, was charged last week in an informal document from the Madison County state's attorney's office with a felony count of unlawful use of a weapon.

Wells was arrested by Venice police at 1:40 p.m. Thursday when they stopped his car at Klein Street and Circle Drive in Venice and alleged seeing a gun butt sticking out of a man's purse in the front seat. There also was open beer on the floorboard of the car, police alleged.

His November ballot opponent, Lucas, a lifelong resident of Maryville, attended grade school there and Collinsville High School.

Economic outlook cautiously positive

The monthly Illinois economic picture prepared by the state government is cautiously positive, indicating that a modest recovery is under way. Factors cited this week follow:

Industrial production is up slightly (.05 percent) after six months of decline. —Output of construction supplies and consumer home goods climbed.

National housing starts were up 12 percent over July, though still well below last year.

Retail sales improved 1.5 percent in August, but car sales skidded again.

Unemployment in Illinois dropped from 9.8 percent in July to 8.6 percent in August.

The best news for most Illinois consumers: Self-service gasoline prices in the state dropped to their lowest average price since last February.

TAKES 3 COATS JoAnn Campbell, 25, Garesche Homes, Madison, told police at 6:22 p.m. Monday that three leather coats, valued at $400, had been stolen from her house.

A total of $106 in food stamps was missing from a place where they had been well hidden, she told police.

Demand for residential electric heat on rise

The demand for electricity for residential space heat and hot water in Madison and St. Clair Counties is steadily growing, particularly in the multi-purpose housing market, according to a study published recently by the Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services (CUERS) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"Energy for space heat and hot water accounts for approximately 80 percent of the energy use within the Illinois residential sector," Ronald C. Bruno, former associate professor of physics at the University and a researcher for CUERS, said.

Bruno is currently working as an environmental scientist with the Environmental Agency in Washington, D.C., involved in the analysis and reduction of radiation exposure from natural resources.

"At present, natural gas satisfies about 70 percent of this energy demand, but in recent years, with limited availability of natural gas, an increasing proportion of new residential units are utilizing electricity for both space heat and hot water," Bruno said.

In 1970, only two percent of the homes in the two-county region had electric heat. However, by 1976, the figure had risen to approximately four percent. More significant was the fact that 35 percent of all housing units constructed between 1971 and 1976 were heated electrically.

In the past 30 years, the housing mix within the two-county area has undergone a dramatic change. During the period from 1950 to 1959, almost 90 percent of the people within the area were housed in single family homes, with the remaining families living in mobile homes.

By 1960-64, the percentage of single family homes had dropped to 78.8 percent, while the number of mobile home residents had risen to 14.6 percent.

The shift in housing types was destined to change even more dramatically. By 1965-70, the number of multi-family units had accounted for 26.4 percent of the total housing, mobile home living had increased to 20.9 percent, and the number of single family units had decreased to 49.7 percent.

After 1970, mobile home units accounted for 22.5 percent of residential housing, multi-family units had risen to 30.4 percent, and single family units had slipped still another notch to 47.1 percent.

While this rather dramatic shift in housing mix was occurring, there was a corresponding shift in the use of heating fuels. Bruno said the trend has been moving away from the utilization of liquid propane, fuel oil, and natural gas toward the use of more electricity.

The SIUE researcher pointed out that, if the trend toward electrification continues very far into the future, winter peaking may return to the time when consumption is at its greatest height.

"Winter peaking could entail a dramatic rise in the cost of electric space heat as well as an increased vulnerability to winter-time breakdowns of the electricity supply and delivery system," Bruno said. "Such breakdowns have occurred in many regions during summer peaks."

In the report he prepared for CUERS, Bruno suggested several measures that can be taken to slow down the growth in the winter peak. They include stricter insulation standards, the use of heat pumps, storage systems, solar heating and modified construction techniques.

"Superior insulation and proper window placement are extremely effective in reducing peak demands and total kilowatt hour consumption for space heat," Bruno said, adding that such measures taken in the area of multi-family housing construction could cut the peak demands to one-third of their present level.

While off-peak storage systems for electric space heat can be cost effective, Bruno said, their potential is severely limited by the number of off-peak kilowatt hours available during the winter peaking season.

"Solar heating systems could cut down on electric consumption for space heat," he said, with off-peak electricity serving as a backup heating system.

Bruno pointed out that electricity used for heating water presently contributes a great deal to the summer peak demand in the Illinois Power service area. "Off-peak electricity consumption for hot water is a cost-effective method to shift this load from the summer peak," he said, adding that utilities would have to pass their savings back to the consumer in the form of cheaper kilowatt hours as an incentive for implementation.

"Solar assisted collection systems combined with off-peak storage systems are particularly attractive since they reap the combined benefits of peak shaving and reduced kilowatt hour consumption," Bruno said. Finally, the SIUE researcher suggested that whatever new natural gas is available would be able to serve more units if they are better insulated. "To this extent, stricter insulation standards in homes utilizing natural gas will moderate the growth in the winter electric peak," Bruno said.

The Illinois Commerce Commission should set minimum insulation standards for new natural gas connections as well as electric connections as part of a plan to ensure reliable and adequate supplies of energy for the residential sector," he said.

Golden Age Circle meets

Participation in a hayride last week and an upcoming outing to pick apples were discussed at the September meeting of the Golden Age Circle Club at the Kirkpatrick Recreation Center. Those honored on their birthdays were Grace Paddock, Mildred Moss, Martin Schulte, Peggy Gibbons and Ruby Corbitt. A trip to Grifton to pick apples is planned Monday, Oct. 6, sponsored by Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer. Mrs. Corbitt, president, announced. Reservations for the bus are required ahead of time, she added.

Twenty-two members spent the afternoon playing games. Those excelling and winning prizes were Art Rankin, Mrs. Gibbons, Schulte, Laura Kent, Tom Brawley, Ruth Purkey and Carrie Hart. Mrs. Moss also received a prize.

1 Thessalonians 5:17

"Pray without ceasing."

Prayer is two-way communication with God. You talk to Him and He talks to you! God has promised to lead us and guide us; promised never to leave us or forsake us; promised never to leave us comfortless. We can believe and trust God for He cannot lie.

Praying without ceasing keeps our minds upon God. Our affections set on things above. Our faith content in His promises. We all have a great desire to depart and go to Heaven with Him. However, this will take place in God's own good time. In the meantime, pray without ceasing.

Remember this: Long distance is the next best thing to being there!

Pray, Today.

Principal Richard Ault introduced the current staff of teachers and the president presented the PTA corps of officers for the year. They included Larry Hahne, vice-president, Charlayne Asbeck, secretary, Joan Stark, treasurer, Darlene Bayer, hospitality, and Alice Hahne, membership.

Mrs. Pat Mihu guest speaker

Words of wisdom were passed on to members of the Future Secretaries Association at Granite City High School-North at their first meeting of the new school year last week by Mrs. Pat Mihu, a 1976 graduate of GCHS-South, who shared her experiences and impressions with the audience. One of the impressive statements she made was that the teachers who dislike the most - the ones who made you do all the work, who made you produce when you thought you couldn't do it - are the ones you will love the most after you are on the job.

Mrs. Mihu, a secretary in the Training Department at Granite City Steel, told of her experiences in getting her job, and on the job. She added employers' look for various attributes in a new employee, among the most important being appearance, manners, scholastic record and grade point average, shorthand speed and typing ability.

Mrs. Mihu said she didn't realize until she was looking for jobs that Granite City graduates are rated highly, especially in St. Louis, because of the good reputation of the high schools in teaching business related courses. She told the group that when typing speed is important, but even more important is accuracy; she also recommended they get some computer training if possible. It is especially important that shorthand be known, even if a graduate doesn't like it and never wants to have to use it on a job.

Vice-President Pam Damrath, who also serves as program chairman, thanked the speaker on behalf of the audience, and President Elaine Koesterer called the meeting to order. There were approximately 50 past members and prospective new members in attendance. Those who wish to join FSA were told to turn in their membership fee prior to Sept. 30. Initiation will be held jointly with GCHS-South FSA chapter on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 19. At that time new officers of both chapters will also be formally installed.

President Koesterer explained the purpose of Future Secretaries Association, introduced the officers, explained the point system, and called for reports. Lori Bushong, recording secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting, and treasurer, Kellee Blockberger reported the balance in the treasury.

Programs have been planned for the rest of the year, including a judo demonstration, FSA Olympics, "day in the office" for seniors, field trip to St. Louis with lunch at the Stadium Club in April, and a speaker from St. Elizabeth's Medical Center, Mrs. Helen Bergfield. Scheduled for next month's meeting, Oct. 20, is a film from Illinois Bell on telephone usage.

Couple marks 50th year

Relatives from Salem, Waynesville, Centerville, Ellington, Bellview, Pilot Knob, Flat River and St. Louis, Mo., and Marietta, Ill., gathered to celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hughes, 3308 Johnson Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes were married on Sept. 20, 1930, at Niedringhaus United Methodist parsonage in Granite City, by the Rev. Tuschoff.

For her wedding, the bride selected a white full length gown featuring a wedding band collar of Chantilly lace and a bodice re-embroidered with seed pearls.

Four boucens of organza trimmed in Chantilly lace formed the skirt. The bride also wore a chapel length veil edged in matching lace and secured by a headpiece of seed pearls and lace.

She carried a nosegay of white daisies and carnations, yellow sweetheart roses, baby's breath and white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Carol Schillinger, the bride's sister. Bridesmaids were Karen Schneider, Sue Hyde and Mrs. Steve Simmons.

Rainbow colors of gold, sky blue, green and peach were chosen for the attendants' dresses, which featured criss-cross bodices, draped backs and selfie belts.

They carried bouquets of white daisies and baby's breath with matching satin ribbons.

Barton Allen, a brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsman were Tim Fair, Steve Gerdes and Phil Bell. Rick Lusk and Billie Woody seated the guests.

Candelighters were Eric and Lisa Schriebe.

BREAD BAKING AT FORT DE CHARTRES

At the Fort de Chartres State Historic Site, Highway 155 four miles west of Prairie du Rocher, Ill., this Sunday, Oct. 5, the preparation and baking of bread in 18th Century clay ovens will be demonstrated.

Bread was a staple item for the early French settlers and the men who garrisoned Fort de Chartres. The local farmers grew the wheat and traded or sold it at the fort. The wheat was then ground into flour and used at the fort to make bread, and the flour not used was exported.

Seniors excel in merit competition

Two Quad-City senior students, Matthew Thomas and Scott H. Buhmann, are being commended for their outstanding performance in the 26th annual National Merit Scholarship Program, by the principals of their respective high schools.

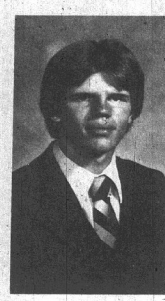

Scott Buhmann attends Granite City High School South and also attended Prather Junior High School for the seventh and eighth grades.

James Dumont, principal of Madison High School, presented the honor certificate to Thomas who is the son of Mrs. Mary Thomas, 1633 Sixth St., Madison.

A letter of commendation from the school and National Merit Scholarship Corp., which conducts the competition, was presented to each of the students.

More than one million students entered the 1981 Merit Program by taking the PSAT-NMSQT in 1979. About 33,000 of these students throughout the United States will receive a commendation for outstanding test performance. Commended students rank below the level required for Merit Program Semi-finalists, the only participants who will continue in the 1981 competition for Merit Scholarships.

Nonetheless, commended students have been shown exceptional academic promise by scoring among the top one percent of Merit Program participants.

SCOTT BUHMANN, a senior at South High School, received commendation for his outstanding performance in the National Merit Scholarship Program.

The official letter also read in part: "Commended students who requested it have been referred to admissions and financial aid officers at two higher education institutions of their choice. It is hoped that the referral service and Merit Program recognition will result in assistance for the commended students as they pursue their educational goals."

Benefit auction tickets available

Tickets are still available for the 1980 Camelot benefit auction Saturday at Sunset Hills Country Club. Sponsored by the Granite City Rotary and Optimist clubs, the event will include a 5:30 p.m. social hour, a 6 p.m. to 7:15 smorgasbord dinner and the auction at 8 p.m.

A gift to one of those attending will be a Magnavox component audio system, with AM-FM stereo radio, a record player, an eight-track and cassette player-recorder, two speakers and a stand.

Airplane, balloon and sailplane rides will be among the items auctioned, along with a wide range of gift certificates.

Highlights on the auction list this year include a weekend for two at the TanTara resort in Missouri, auto maintenance contracts, an antique regulator clock, Blues ice hockey tickets, a complete residential alarm system, and racquetball memberships.

Persons at the dinner may bid for a Missouri Athletic Club evening for six, including dinner, drinks and dancing; an all-day Mississippi River boat cruise for 24, including food and drinks; a weekend for two at the St. Louis Marriott Airport Hotel; and a chalet weekend for up to nine people.

Among the many other auction listings are a Norman Rockwell plate collection, a residential safe, a 1980 outboard boat motor, limousine service for an evening in the St. Louis metropolitan area, a bicycle and four new auto tires.

Al Tuetsen, president of the Alton Roadrunners, has announced that the membership has voted to sanction a "Fun Run" charity event with the proceeds going to the Lewis-Clark Lung Association. The event will take place at the Alton Square Shopping Center on the Beltline Parkway and starting time will be 9 a.m. on Sunday, Oct. 26. Entrants may run or walk 1, 2, 3 or 4 miles for the fun of it.

Bell wants to eliminate two-party line services

Illinois Bell has asked the Illinois Commerce Commission for approval to expand its measured service offering for customers in Granite City, Belleville, East St. Louis and Edgemoor. The company also asked to eliminate all two-party service statewide within three years.

Measured service is currently only available for area residence customers who have two-party service.

"The new offering provides a one-party measured service offering for customers who currently have the two-party service and offers a lower-priced alternative for customers who have one-party local service," said Keesee, vice president of Bell Telephone of Granite City.

"The residence measured service offering provides a low basic rate of $2.55 each month, plus additional charges for each Bell phone. Local and nearby calls would be billed in units and customers pay only for the service they use."

Business customers already have a measured service available at $9.30 a month, plus equipment charges. The service includes 75 units of usage for each line or trunk.

In addition, customers would receive off-peak discounts. A message unit would cost 5.29 cents between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, but would only cost three units at all other times and on certain holidays.

"We found that most of our customers who have the two-party measured service would probably save money with the new measured service offering," Evers said.

Two-party measured service offers customers 40 message units of usage each month, but these customers average only about 14 units of calling each month. Two-party customers currently pay $3.35 monthly. An average user would pay the $2.55 for one-party measured service plus about 75 cents for the 14 units or $3.30, a nickel savings.

"Customers who take advantage of the off-peak calling would save even more money," Evers said, "and they would have a higher quality of service."

The company asked the Illinois Commerce Commission to eliminate two-party service to upgrade service for all Illinois customers. It plans to limit two-party service to existing customers and to eliminate it completely by Dec. 31, 1983, in all parts of the state. The company would begin eliminating the service in late 1981 on a community-by-community basis as facilities become available.

Under existing Illinois Commerce Commission guidelines, the company has been phasing out two-party service since 1974. Two-party service was discontinued for customers in the close-in Chicago suburbs in 1978. Under tariffs approved by the Commission in March, 1978, Chicago two-party service will be discontinued Sept. 30.

"We ask to eliminate two-party service completely because of a dwindling demand for the service," Evers said. "Lack of privacy, contention for use of the line and delay in clearing a two-party line to call for help in an emergency have made two-party service unacceptable to almost all phone users. The single party services we have are priced close to the two-party rates."

"It's also become more costly for Illinois Bell to provide two-party service, because we can't always find two people in the same area who both want two-party service and can share the line," Evers said.

In 1948, 91 percent of all Illinois Bell customers had some type of multiple-party service, mainly because wartime shortages limited all installations to multiple-party service. By 1960, the number of multiple-party service customers had decreased to 34.5 percent. The percentage decreased to 12.5 percent by 1970.

Today, less than one percent of all Illinois Bell customers (24,000) have two-party service.

The workshop will be held Tuesday, Oct. 7, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Kaskaskia Room in the University Center.

A course designed to give students working knowledge of University forms and procedures is scheduled Tuesday, Oct. 14. The session will meet from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Wabash Room.

For students who want to become more knowledgeable about the student activities library, a seminar will be held Tuesday, Oct. 21, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Student Activities Office. The major aspects of a recruitment campaign, including basic knowledge of an organization's functions, planning, job assignments, and retention, will be discussed in the workshop.

Specific issues concerning the operation of organizations will be the subject matter of a course for students who want to learn how to plan and manage activities and groups by objectives. The course will be held Tuesday, Nov. 4, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the International Room.

The Office of Education will sponsor a workshop for student organizations concerning parliamentary procedures Tuesday, Nov. 11 and 18, from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 1302 in the Peck Building. The session will focus on the specific and tangible problems that student leaders are experiencing in the operation of their organizations.

The specific aspects of communication skills will be the subject matter of a class Tuesday, Jan. 27, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the International Room.

Replacement tax deducted

Legislation to permit corporate taxpayers to deduct for income tax purposes the full amount of the personal property replacement tax they pay has been approved by Governor James R. Thompson.

"This represents the keeping of a promise that was made when the replacement system was approved last year," the governor said. "It also will help the business climate."

The measure includes an increase in the amount of non-refundable short-term bonds which may be issued by park districts.

The increase, from .5 percent of equalized assessed valuation to .75 percent, is a 15 percent increase, which was inadvertently omitted in 1979 from legislation extending the same increase to all taxing districts which use short-term debt for revolving construction funds.

Another provision allows municipalities constructing town halls to issue short-term debt to the level of .75 percent of equalized valuation (now .5 percent), correcting another unintended exclusion in 1979.

national Room. The class will discuss listening skills, defensiveness, analyzing, and negotiating.

A workshop that will address delegation, procrastination, and setting priorities within student organizations will be held Tuesday, Feb. 10, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the International Room. The workshop will emphasize the impact that efficient time management can have on the problems and concerns of an organization.

Sam Smith, director of University News Services at SIUE, will be the featured speaker at a seminar concerning public relations and image building, Wednesday, Feb. 25, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Illinois Room. The session will give students an opportunity to explore the importance of an organization's image and the potential strategies for an image change.

Recommended for students who want to learn about relevant methods of evaluating an organization's programs and activities, a course will be held Tuesday, April 7, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the International Room that will discuss self-assessment, feedback, and the importance of evaluation in planning.

The Student Activities Office staff will lead a seminar on how to go about organizing a group for a particular purpose or activity, Wednesday, May 6, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Wabash Room. Specifically, the focus of the seminar will be on refining ideas, mobilizing memberships, and working for charter approval.

The final session offered will concern fundraising and fiscal management, Tuesday, May 19, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Illinois Room. Creativity, realistic goal setting, predicting an audience, and setting priorities will be discussed in the course.

Additional information on any of the workshops offered may be obtained by telephoning 618-692-2686.

Thrift art contest

A thrift poster contest for area students is being sponsored by Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association during October.

A. H. Froemming, president, said the local contest is the first phase of a statewide thrift poster contest sponsored by the Illinois Savings and Loan League, of which Madison County Federal is a member.

Students in the third grade through high school will compete in four categories for cash awards totaling $1,900 at the state level. Madison County Federal will offer cash prizes of $25 to winners, $15 to second place finishers and $10 to third place recipients.

The four contest categories are third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades, seventh and eighth grades, and high school. First-place posters in each category will be entered in the state judging during November.

The contest is in its 13th year and has as its theme "A People Who Save, Live Better." The theme relates to the contribution made by savings to the strength of the U.S. and to better lives for all citizens.

"Over the years of the contest, exceptionally creative and fresh ideas on the theme of savings and thrift have been submitted by the students," Froemming said. "The concept of saving one's money for later use is a long tradition in this country. It accounts for much of the prosperity we enjoy today."

Information and forms to enter the contest may be obtained from Mrs. Marilyn Harris, contest coordinator for Madison County Federal Savings, at the association office, 3000 Nameoki Road, Granite City, or through Mrs. Jacqueline Logan at the Troy branch or Carl Speckling at the Glen Carbon branch.

Posters must be entered by Oct. 31 at the office where the officially entry blank is obtained.

SPREADING THE GREEN. Two laborers of the C. D. Peters Construction Co. apply the second sealer-filler green coat on the newly resurfaced tennis courts last week in Wilson Park on Benton Avenue. Between and on the perimeters of the four new court surfaces a red sealer has been added, then two finish coats are to be applied to the entire surface. New fencing between the courts is now being installed and the two oldest courts not being resurfaced will be put back into use when this work is completed. Journalism internships offered in SIUE program

Two national scholarship programs providing summer internships for journalism students are available through Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, sponsored by the Newspaper Fund, Inc.

The Editing Internship Program, one of the scholarships available, puts selected college juniors to work for a full summer on daily newspapers and wire service copydesks. Interns become proficient in all phases of copyediting and headline writing, and as a result, sharpen their skills for professional news work. The program offers a $700 scholarship for each recipient.

The other scholarship, the Minority Internship Program, involves a $1,000 grant for eligible seniors and graduate students. The program is for students who have a demonstrated interest and talent in news reporting and editing. Interns will be given an opportunity to become involved in daily newspaper work and see the rewards of a reporting career.

Tom Engleman, executive director of Newspaper Fund, Inc., said the internships are served at major American daily newspapers and wire services, including the Associated Press, Dallas Morning News, Minneapolis Star and Tribune, Wall Street Journal and Washington Post.

Applications for both programs are available at the University Placement Services office at SIUE. The deadline for applications is Nov. 27, and all students will be selected before the end of January, 1981.

For additional information, interested students may contact David Van Horn at 618-692-2880.

School boards to discuss laws, ethnics, investing

Area school board members and superintendents will gather at Ilini Junior High School in Jerseyville on Wednesday, Oct. 8, to take part in a semi-annual dinner meeting of the Southwestern Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

The meeting consists of a 6 p.m. dinner and five concurrent panel presentations from 8:15 to 9:15 p.m.

The five panel topics are: ethical conduct of board members and administrators, legislative update, changes taking place in the area of special education, teacher suspension, and investing school district funds.

Also included on the program will be an association report by Harold P. Seamon, IASB executive director. The IASB is a voluntary service organization of about 1,000 school boards in Illinois, with headquarters in Springfield.

The Southwestern Division includes five counties: Jersey, Madison, Monroe, Randolph and St. Clair.

Presiding over the ethical conduct session will be George E. Moore, a Granite City School Board member and a state IASB director.

Leading the teacher suspension panel will be Harold E. "Gene" Briggs, superintendent of the Madison County educational service region.

Woman finds man in house

Mrs. Bessie Berry, 1022 Logan Ave., Venice, returned home at 1:30 p.m. Sunday and found a man standing in the bedroom. She asked the man what he was doing there, but he just stood there and didn't answer, she told police.

When Mrs. Berry began screaming, the man fled through the rear door.

A short time later, she discovered $200 was missing. Entry into the dwelling apparently was gained through a basement window, the report said.

A suspect has been questioned in the case.

Revised bylaws awaiting action

A draft of revised policies of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees has been presented to the board for information and reaction. Approval of the revisions will be sought at the Oct. 15 meeting of the board, to be held in St. Louis.

Also submitted to the board was a proposed amendment to the board's bylaws. It specifies the process by which guidelines and regulations intended for chancellor approval will be developed by the universities' presidents and processed through the approval stage.

University officers explained that revision of official statements of board policy contained in the Code of Policy was undertaken by the Office of the Chancellor earlier this year.

It was stated at that time that the overall purpose of the revision was not to create new board policy but to restate existing board policy in light of current circumstances.

In June, the SIU board took the first step in the revision process by approving revised bylaws and statutes of the board.

The bylaws are statements concerning the board's administrative structure and purposes of the internal organization of the university system.

The board's policies are legislation concerning procedures governing the internal operations of the university, and guidelines governing administrative actions.

The revised policies are separated into six subject matter areas or chapters: academic program, degrees and awards; faculty and staff services; student regulations and policies; tuition, fees and charges; financial and business affairs; and university property and physical facilities.

More candidates in Oct. 12 Junior Miss Pageant in GC

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

An impressive list of awards, including a $2,000 scholarship to Huntington College in Montgomery, Ala., and a $500 cash scholarship, was announced today for the 1981 Granite City Junior Miss Pageant. The local Junior Miss competition will be held Sunday, Oct. 12, at 6:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Granite City High School.

Twenty-one young women will seek the title. It was reported today that one of the contestants previously announced has withdrawn from the pageant.

Sharon Lynn, organizer of the Granite City contest, said the $500 award was contributed through donations from Woodrome Oldsmobile, Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, Granite City Aldermen, Amvets Post 51 and Junior Miss program funds.

In addition to the major awards presented the title winner, each of the next four runners-up will receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, Mrs. Yount said.

A course in modeling at the Junior Miss Pageant will be offered a contestant. Gifts available to the candidates will include dinners, pizzas, flowers, soft drinks, tacos, hamburgers, ice cream, photographs, gift certificates and music. Each of the girls will receive a Bible and a trophy.

"Junior Miss is among the country's most respected youth activities," Mrs. Yount said. "It seeks to honor and reward girls all parents would be proud to call their own."

"Junior Miss is not a beauty contest in the usual sense of the word; it is not a popularity contest, an IQ test, or a talent show."

"Junior Misses are the representative girls, all around individuals with intelligence, character, poise, concern and hope for the future," she said.

The local winner will advance to the Illinois Junior Miss competition which is scheduled for Dec. 6 and Dec. 7 in Bollingbrook, Ill.

The state winner will represent Illinois in the American's Junior Miss National Finals at Mobile, Ala., next June.

Some $2 million in scholarships, bonds, cash and other awards are offered to Junior Miss participants in national, state and local programs.

Top award is the $15,000 to the girl selected as America's Junior Miss. Mrs. Yount said numerous universities and colleges recognize the contributions of the program and the high standards of Junior Miss by offering scholarships to participants along with those presented by businesses, and the Student Council.

Park district plans autumn 'foliage' trip

The Granite City Park District is planning its one-day fall foliage trip for Saturday, Oct. 25. The trip is being planned as a leisurely drive through southern St. Charles County, Mo. There is a rural 25-mile stretch of state Highway 94 area where the August A. Busch Memorial Wildlife Area, the Daniel Boone Home and the wineries of Augusta are located. Highway 94 connects with U.S. 40 just west of the Missouri River about 15 miles from St. Louis.

Attractions of the Busch Memorial Wildlife Area are 32 lakes, picnic areas, native oaks, and Kentucky coffee trees as well as transplanted white pine. There are 19th century cemeteries and magazines related to store explosives during World War II.

Further west on Highway 94 is the Femme Osage Valley where Daniel Boone brought 50 families at the end of the 18th century. The rock house in which Boone spent the last years of his life still stands and is open to the public. There is a $1.50 charge for adults to tour the home. One of the wineries in Augusta is Mt. Pleasant Winery owned by the former Granite City resident, Lucian Dressel.

From 94, the group will travel to Marthville on Highway 19 through the picturesque hillsides to Hermann, Mo. From Hermann, traveling will be on Highway 100 through the Missouri countryside for the autumn coloring of the leaves and then onto Highway 144 back through St. Louis to Granite City.

The Park District expects to be into Granite City by 5 p.m. The cost of the bus transportation will be $9.25 per person and a tour of the Daniel Boone's home is elective for each individual. The price of the meal is $4.75 which includes meal, tip, drink and dessert.

The total cost of the one day trip is $14 per person and must be paid in full when reservation is made in person at the Wilson Park Office starting Friday, Oct. 3.

New plans may or may not bar unfair steel competition

The timing of the steel industry assistance program announced Tuesday in Washington cannot help but raise doubts about its effectiveness. With so little time remaining before the November election, it will be impossible to know how much is real and how much is rhetoric.

It should be noted parenthetically that domestic steelmakers aren't seeking a federal role but rather an opportunity to meet foreign competition on equal terms. When overseas governments and producers team up to "dump" steel at less than cost in order to gain an ever-increasing share of the U.S. market, the competition isn't fair. But the federal government has moved so ponderously and ineptly to correct the situation that many wonder, "Where side is it on?"

U.S. Steel Corporation filed an anti-dumping complaint in March against steelmakers in seven European countries. In response, the administration suspended its largely ineffective "trigger-price mechanism" to pressure the company into withdrawing the suit. When the suit was dropped this week, the U.S. revived the trigger-price concept.

What is causing concern is that the new price mechanism, intended to limit unfairly priced, below-cost steel imports, still contains vague language regarding what constitutes a surge in imports and how a surge is to be handled.

And enforcement remains in the hands of the same people "who demonstrated clearly that they weren't willing to enforce the old trigger price mechanism. Those people aren't going to change their spots overnight," a steel industry analyst said Tuesday.

The comment by National Steel Corp. Chairman George A. Stinson was that the success of the mechanism depends on whether the government lives up to its promises. "The key question is how aggressively it is executed and administered. If administered effectively, it can be a help."

Lloyd McBride, United Steelworkers of America president, said that the success of the mechanism depends on whether the government lives up to its promises. "The key question is how aggressively it is executed and administered. If administered effectively, it can be a help."

U.S. wants its bills paid but still sneaky on tax hikes

It is hard to find fault with the logic of legislation just introduced by U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy of Illinois to speed and facilitate the collection of $35 billion in debts owed by individuals and organizations to the federal government.

The proposed Debt Collection Act would give 23 agencies "the incentive and tools they now lack" to speed collection. Although at least $6 billion of the $35 billion is expected to be written off, overall debts to the U.S. are estimated at $175 billion, including $48 billion in loans to foreign governments.

While the amount of what is owed to Uncle Sam is "shocking" in size, as Sen. Percy termed the plan, it might be more palatable to the taxpayer public if Uncle kept his own financial affairs in a bit better order.

A House committee this week pointed out that the U.S. government now takes almost 22 percent of the gross national product, there has been a 50 percent escalation in Americans' tax burden since 1976, rising from $400 billion to over $600 billion; and the inflation rate over $600 billion.

By not adjusting income tax brackets, federal officials are taking advantage of inflation to obtain steep tax increases, both in dollars and as a percentage of one's income—and without even having to vote on or acknowledge the higher taxation. The deceptiveness of this policy cannot be entirely forgotten as the "feds" prepare to rise up in righteous anger and call in citizens' IOUs.

Chamber backs school repairs

The board of directors of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce unanimously endorsed the school repair bond issue election to be conducted Oct. 25 in the Granite City school district.

The board urged public approval of a $2,000,000 bond program and a ten-cent increase in the building fund tax rate.

Scenes of school building conditions, needing renovations were presented by School Supt. B. J. Davis, who said present funding has been insufficient to fully maintain the buildings.

Speakers on the bond and rate election are available through contacting the Board of Education office at 876-6600.

Conversion of the state government's fleet of vehicles to gasoline has been virtually completed.

Homecoming is planned Oct. 17 and 18 at SIUE, where hayrides, barbecues, and "down home" music will be featured.

William A. O'Connor, Springfield, was named Wednesday as acting director of the new Illinois Department of Nuclear Safety.

A new system of jury selection effective Oct. 6 in the Madison County Circuit Court calls for a juror to serve for the duration of a trial. Wilson R. "Bud" Schwenk, 63, executive vice-president of the United Achievement of the Mississippi Valley, died Wednesday at Missouri Baptist Hospital, St. Louis, of a ruptured artery. He had been associated with JA for 30 years. He is survived by his wife, a son, two daughters, his mother, and two grandchildren.

No income tax change or general tax increase is planned in Illinois, Governor James R. Thompson said Wednesday. He said he still favors a new formula for determining gasoline taxes.

The Illinois Supreme Court on Monday said the Illinois Revenue Department cannot force groceries and other stores offering their own price tags to collect sales taxes on an item's original price rather than its coupon price. The decision does not cover manufacturers' coupons for which a business is fully reimbursed.

In the afternoon, admission, records, financial aid and other support services will be explained.

The Illinois AFL-CIO on Tuesday endorsed Alan J. Dixon, Democrat, for the U.S. Senate. State AFL-CIO President Robert Gibson, formerly of Granite City, told the labor convention Monday at Rosemont that reduction of the size of the Illinois House of Representatives should be opposed because it would "create a conservative majority" in the legislature.

A new computer system is expected to streamline the Nov. 4 election canvass at Madison County, reducing the time required from ten days to two hours.

The toll for autos on the Eads Bridge was raised Wednesday from 30 to 35 cents. On Oct. 15, the charge for cars on the Martin Luther King Bridge will increase from 20 to 30 cents.

Long Lake firemen's public show Sunday

By VALERIE EVENDEN

The arrival of a Medical Air Rescue Corps (MARC) helicopter at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department, 4113 Pontoon Road, preceded by the appearance of a large bright yellow hot air balloon, are just two of the highlights planned in conjunction with an open house scheduled that day.

In observance of National Fire Prevention Week, the Long Lake volunteer firemen and rescue squad are inviting residents of the Long Lake Fire Protection District to attend the open house program, starting at 9 a.m. Sunday and continuing until 5 p.m.

A series of activities is planned throughout the day, according to the versatile Hurst Lark Long Lake Rescue Squad, who is serving as open house chairman.

Guaranteed to attract a large number of spectators from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. is a simulated accident, with firemen and rescue personnel extricating victims from a wrecked vehicle, unaided.

It is during this segment of the open house that the MARC helicopter will land on the fire department property.

Rescue Chief Dave Johnson is coordinating the "copter's" appearance and its participation in the "evacuation" of the injured victims. Shortly before 12 noon, the Pantara's Pizza hot air balloon will arrive at the fire station, piloted by Dan Balkier and Tom Hartman, and may be inspected by the guests.

Inclusion of the huge yellow balloon, decorated with multi-colored checks and Pantara's name, was arranged by Volunteer Fireman Richard McIntosh. Leading up to the "action" sequence, visitors may view special films and have their blood pressure taken, beginning at 9 a.m. Sunday.

Between 11 a.m. and 12 noon, children will be entertained with a magic show and the blood pressure readings will continue for adults.

Prizes will be awarded at various times during the morning and afternoon, Lt. Bowles said.

A demonstration using the large tanker and other equipment will be entertaining with a magic show and more films and a discussion of services available will take place from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Members of the volunteer department have been visiting many homes within the fire protection district to deliver personal invitations to residents. Long Lake Fire Chief Earl Arnold advised this week.

A sticker listing the department's emergency phone numbers—331-0955—was left at each house, to be attached to the resident's own telephone.

The Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department is equipped to handle all types of fire and rescue situations on a 24-hour basis, including water rescue incidents.

Equipment available includes 750 and 1,000 gallon pumper trucks; a 3,000 gallon tanker truck; a tactical attack four-wheel drive 250 gallon pumper truck.

A fully equipped rescue truck complete with oxygen, trauma kits, generator, emergency lighting, Hurst Tool and other rescue gear; a four-wheel drive pickup truck for department use and towing boats; two boats for water rescue; and a backup rescue-ambulance vehicle.

The present roster of personnel lists 38 senior volunteer firemen and rescue personnel and junior firemen, between the ages of 16 and 21 years.

"Our department maintains the best response time in the area," Lt. Bowles commented.

His remarks were echoed by Chief Arnold, who said, "We are all volunteers who volunteer because we care." "The department has been in operation for over 30 years and we will continue to give the people the best service available in the area," he promised.

St. Francis of Assisi tried

Franciscans to celebrate

By FATERIA

CONRAD MOTOLA, OFM

Pastor of St. Mary's in Madison

This Saturday, Oct. 4, is the Feast of St. Francis, the Founder of the Franciscan Order, which serves the Springfield Diocese, the St. Louis Archdiocese, many other dioceses, and the Black Americans, the Indian Missions in Wisconsin, the Spanish Missions in Texas including Brazil and Zaire.

The three branches of the Franciscan Order founded by St. Francis, the Poor Clares, the Brothers of the Order, and the Third Order, to which belong the Fathers at St. Mary's in Madison, the OFM Conventuals, and the OFM Capuchins will celebrate. The Poor Clares, the order established for the women, and the Secular Franciscans in St. Louis New Cathedral at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 4th. Presiding Prelate will be His Excellency, the Archbishop of St. Louis, Archbishop May. All Franciscans, as well as all lay people, are welcome to honor St. Francis on his Feastday.

St. Francis of Assisi tried for 25 years to be a somebody. He went to parties, wore fancy clothes. He was like all of us - really like a good time.

Yet, Francis had a serious side. He wanted to do something meaningful with his life - for himself and for others. He knew that he was not a somebody, but he wanted to live like Jesus... but how?

Through prayer and painful renouncing he found a simple life. Living like the poor whom he wanted to serve. He chose to be a nobody so that he could share his life with everybody. And he sought to share his life with like-minded brothers. He was not a somebody, but he didn't want to be an ecclesiastical functionary in a hierarchical churchman with status and power.

He established three Orders. The First Order for Priests and brothers who are solemnly professed with vows. His second Order was for women - Poor Clares - also with solemn vows. And for those who could not leave the world and enter the monastery or because of worldly and family commitments - lay people who non-the-less wanted to follow the life style of Francis in their daily life out in the world, Francis started a third Order, known as the Secular Franciscans.

This was not just another society or nondescript group in the church. It was a bonafide order, similar and equal to the First and Second Orders. They were given a special Franciscan Rule of life to follow with an office to say daily as also the other two Orders. They recite 13 "Our Fathers," 12 "Hail Marys," and 12 "Glorias." This is their daily office.

Nothing that the Secular Franciscans do is obligatory under sin unless it already binds under sin from their being Catholics. They share in the simple life of the Franciscan brotherhood of service to their fellowman. Their dress is moderate, not luxurious. Their aspirations are humble and Christlike. Their way of life is living the best Catholic life they know they could and should live. But, they commit themselves to strive for this goal with the added inspiration and example of the Poverello, the Little Poor Man of Assisi.

Francis had a great desire and devotion for the humanity of Christ. Therefore, the Blessed Christ was the humble Christchild - and this Francis popularized by the Crib scene with everybody. Secular Franciscans loved the Lord's presence in the Eucharist. Christ hidden within the humble prison walls of the tabernacle attracted Francis to spend many a nocturnal vigil adoring the real presence of Christ in our midst in our churches.

He also had a burning love for the Crucified Christ, for this Christ miraculously imprinted upon Francis' body the five wounds that Our Lord Himself bore on His Sacred Body, known as the Stigmata of St. Francis, the five wounds imprinted on his hands and feet and side also.

We have a Secular Franciscan Fraternity here at St. Mary's. We meet on the third Sunday of each month at 1:30 p.m. in church for Benediction or other church function as receiving new members or accepting their profession and thereby becoming full-fledged Franciscans, no less than the First and Second Orders. Good news, bad news for Wyro

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Granite City North football coach Tom Wyrostek has some good news and some bad news. First the good news. Yesterday, he learned that his team is ranked seventh in the state among Class 5A (second-largest teams) in the latest Associated Press statewide poll. Now the bad news: In this, the backstretch of the season, Wyrostek's red-hot Steelers won't get a chance to continue their winning ways this weekend. North has the weekend off.

"I don't like it," said Wyrostek. "We couldn't find anybody with an open date. In fact, the only team with an open date was one up by Peoria. We didn't want to travel that far and neither did they. And we couldn't find a neutral site."

The problem then, is to practice for two weeks and try to keep the team keyed up enough for its next game, Oct. 10 at home against Cahokia, a team the Steelers trounced the first weekend of the season 29-0. "We're going to have a seniors' juniors' game at practice Friday," said Wyrostek. "That has, given us a little something to work toward for this week. "But the kids are happy just to enjoy their accomplishments and enjoy being 4-0 for a while. It's hard to keep them that serious during practice."

As to the Associated Press Poll, Wyrostek welcomed it. "It makes you feel good that other people think you have a good ball club," he said. "I don't mind it publicly at all."

Wyrostek said he doesn't think the poll or the recognition bothers his team. "I don't think it puts any more pressure on the team than normal. But I don't want the kids to read their press clippings on Friday nights."

Friday nights have been pretty pleasant for Wyrostek and his gang the last four weeks. After the season-opener against Cahokia, the Steelers beat Collinsville 28-9, Wood River 28-7 and improved Roxana last week 25-0.

The Roxana game could well turn out to be a turning point in the season for North. Roxana, always a thorn in the Steelers' side, presented a stumbling block last Friday. And last Saturday, said Wyrostek, "That has, lighting problems, the game was postponed after the first quarter Friday night and resumed Saturday afternoon."

But the same Roxana offense that ran up over 400 yards on the ground against defending 4A state champ Mascoutah wilted under the North defense. North held the Steelers to a mere 57 yards rushing and only eight yards in the air.

"That game not only told us we're for real," said Wyrostek, "it also told some other teams we're for real, so they won't have any problems getting up for us."

Wyrostek has a legitimate feeling about his team's chances against either. "That'll remain to be seen," he laughed. "I don't make predictions. Never 'had, that's for sportswriters."

There are some familiar names in the Associated Press's poll this week. With North bursting upon the scene in the 5A poll, there is at least one Press-Record area representative in each class poll, except for the 1A poll (the smallest schools).

In the Class 6A poll, East St. Louis Senior, the defending 5A state champion, is ranked fifth with a 4-0 record. New Trier East (4-0) is first, Buffalo Grove (4-0) second, Reavis (4-0) third, Evanston (4-0) fourth, Willowbrook (3-1) sixth, Conant (4-0) seventh, Gordon Tech (4-0) eighth, LaGrange (3-1) ninth and St. Laurence (3-1) tenth.

In the 5A poll, Hinsdale South (4-0) is ranked first, followed by Springfield Griffin (4-0), Elgin Larkin (4-0), Rockford Boylan (4-0), Mundelein (4-0), Glenbard West (3-1), North's Steelers, Peoria Manual (3-1), Fenwick (3-1) and Mt. Carmel (4-1).

Belleville Althoff is ranked tenth in the Class 4A poll, while Mascoutah is ranked seventh. Because of a new Illinois High School Association rule, schools compete in the playoffs by their own enrollment, not by an average enrollment of the conferences, as had been the practice in the past. Thus, North is in the 5A poll, while Althoff is in the 4A group.

Wheaton North is ranked first in Class 4A.

In the Class 3A poll, Breese Mater Dei (4-0) is ranked fourth in the state, following an easy win last week over East St. Louis Assumption. 3A semifinalist last season, Morris (4-0) is ranked first in Class 3A.

Madison falls to Gibault 1-0

By TOM SCHOICKER
of the Press-Record

WATERLOO — You might say the Madison Trojan soccer squad is having problems. It seems they can't get the ball into the net. The Trojans have lost five games thus far in 1980. Four by the score of 1-0. The latest casualty came at the hands of the Waterloo Gibault Hawks Tuesday. Yep, you guessed it. The score was 1-0.

"If we could score, we would have won nearly every game we've played this year," said Madison head coach Gene Briggs. "Our defense was extremely tough. They shut Gibault off time after time. It was amazing to watch them play."

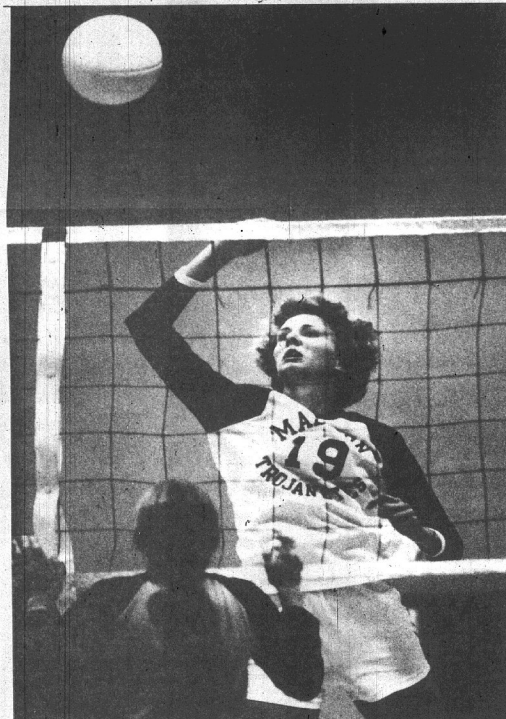

But as it has been the pattern all season, when the defense sparked, the offense fizzled. "I haven't seen a better defense in all the teams we've played this year," said Briggs. "Jim Woodson did another good job as a front sweeper. He had it not been for the offense, Jim Woodson's performance in goal would have stood out a little more. He did a good job," said Briggs. "He made some excellent stops. I was really amazed when he came up with two saves shot out of a crowd."

Broadway was required to come with one other stop, as the Hawks fired 12 shots at the Madison net. But it was one break play that spelled defeat for the Trojans.

Gibault got the only goal in the contest in the opening period. Broadway, who was tested with two hard blasts, came away with two sharp saves. With the ball cleared away from the goal, the Trojan keeper had survived a potential threat. But the Hawks immediately sent the ball sailing back at the goal. A routine pop fly landed and took a weird spin, causing Broadway to mishandle the ball right into the goal mouth for the score.

"He's (Broadway) not likely to mishandle every ball like that," said Briggs. "I think you tend to have a let down after a clear. He's relaxed and wasn't really prepared for the ball coming back so soon. By the time he reached for it, the reaction wasn't good enough. He made good saves on the hard shots and just misplayed the easy ones."

Not that the Trojans didn't have their chances. Reeling off 16 shots, Madison forced the Gibault goalie to make six saves. "Our shots came at better chances," said Briggs. "They were there, we have just had a pretty poor share of luck."

DWARFED, Madison volleyball player Mary Leadlove leaps high for the air last night at Granite City North in prep action. Madison won the match by scores of 13-15, 15-11 and 15-9. (Press-Record Photo by Ed Sedley)

Instant success for Tim Green

Special to the Press-Record

DES MOINES, Iowa — Entering the 1979 racing season, Tim Green had sat in a sprint car on only three occasions.

With just three races under his belt, the 22-year-old Sacramento, Calif., native picked up a major move like Green's, occurs regularly on the tough Midwest "Outlaw" sprint car tour with the same results for a young driver. Time after time, a young competitor would be heading back to his home after only a few weeks on the circuit with no money and a heavy loss.

The odds against Green landing a strong sprint car rider were heavy when he drove back to Des Moines, but, unlike so many others, Tim had the odds on his side. A driver in the Midwest had left a popular racing team and Green asked for the driver's seat. The Jensen Construction Co. Special is known through the Midwest as one of the finest sprint cars in the nation, and the line of drivers ready to jump into the vacant seat was a long one.

However, it was Green who was given a chance to drive the vaunted machine at the famed Marion County Fairgrounds in Knoxville, Iowa, the home of the U.S. Nationals.

"I knew I'd have to drive the car well in the first race," explained Green, who had captured various titles in Go-Kart racing in his younger years, "because there were a lot of guys who were trying to get the ride. So, I just drove the car as hard and as fast as I could in that very first race, and I got fourth in the main (event). Then, the owners gave me another chance the next week and that's all I really needed to nail down the regular driving job."

Unlike his counterparts who failed in the Midwest, Green proved immediately that he belonged with the nation's best drivers, and, once he gained some confidence, there was no stopping him.

After only a half dozen races in the Jensen Construction Co. Special, Green found himself in the winner's circle at Knoxville, and the word was out to watch out for the "kid from California" driving the No. 85 machine.

By mid-summer, Tim had notched seven feature wins with his new ride when he entered the toughest sprint car event in the world, the U.S. Nationals. Over 150 of the nation's best drivers converged on the small town outside of Des Moines, and over 40,000 fans jam the Marion County Fairgrounds for four days of the most spectacular competition the sprint car sport has to offer.

Green made his presence felt quickly by setting the fastest qualifying time during the Thursday night action. Then, Tim captured his qualifying heat race with an outstanding field and wrapped up the evening by winning the feature event over another fine group of drivers. All in all, Green scored 500 qualifying points out of a possible 500 to become the first driver in the history of the U.S. Nationals to receive a "perfect" score.

Green will be one of the featured racers this Sunday night at the Tri-City Speedway World of Outlaws racing program.

North-South showdown tonight

GRANITE CITY — The second meeting of the season between prep soccer powers Granite City North and Granite City South will be tonight at 7:30 at the South Field.

South, four-time defending state champion, won the first meeting between the two, 2-0 Sept. 9 at North. It is the only loss blemishing North's record. The Steelers are 7-1-2 on the season, while South's Warriors are 11-1-1. South's loss came to defending Missouri state champion Rosary High 2-0. South's tie was with Edwardsville, while North's were with Edwardsville and Quincy the first two games of the season.

That one thing was that for only the second time this season, South found itself behind. Cahokia scored the first goal of the game early in the first quarter when Tim Schwartz connected on a penalty kick after being brought down in the area by South's Greg White. The Cahokia bench erupted in celebration.

"It was a close call," said South coach Gene Baker. "I didn't think they were inside the area, but from the official's viewpoint, they were."

The goal by Schwartz came after South had dominated the early moments of the game. Schwartz's penalty kick was the Comanches' first shot at Warrior goalie Joe LeMaster. "That sort of thing can hurt you," said Baker. "Being behind like that after controlling so well could bother a team."

But it didn't seem to bother South. Moments after Cahokia had grabbed the lead, Warrior all-eying David Fernandez tied the score with a goal from the right side. The Warriors assist on the play went to David Paz. South was back in control.

"It was good to be able and come back with a quick goal after they had scored," said Baker. "That put control of the game back with us."

Former Warriors now are Aces

By DOUG IRVIN
For the Press-Record

EVANSVILLE, IND. — A flurry of familiar faces were seen here last Sunday. Not only did the Granite City South soccer team defeat the Evansville Memorial squad 3-1, two former Warrior athletes saw action in the game that followed that high school bout.

Jack Burnett and Craig Kessler, both freshmen, played for the Purple Aces of the University of Evansville when they fought to a 2-2 tie with the Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Burnett started for the Aces as a back and Kessler saw considerable action as one of top substitutes for the U.S. team. Burnett has started in all eight of the Aces games this season; Kessler has started in about half of them and worked his way as a sub in the others.

"The practices are just as tough as they were at South," both college students said. They both like it at Evansville and plan to stay at UE a while. Burnett is majoring in Computer Engineering and Kessler has chosen an Engineering field.

Evansville's coach, Fred Schmalz, said, "You have to give credit to Gene Baker for producing two fine athletes. It's not too unusual for freshmen to be good, but when you get two this good and from the same high school ... you have to give credit."

"There is nothing too nice that you can say about these two," said the smiling Schmalz. "They are both super young men."

Burnett helped out the Aces' defense tremendously. Cougars Pat Malloy and Steve Gauvain had the ball in Aces territory all alone with Burnett and John Dunda, the Aces keeper.

Burnett was able to keep both of those two fine soccer players from shooting on goal at that point. That was when the score was tied 2-2 and only 25 minutes remained.

With only 5:36 remaining in regulation time, Burnett stopped a highly potential SIUE scoring opportunity. Cougar Leo Bourneuf had a running breakaway and had gotten by everyone but the standout freshman. Burnett fakes left and right with Bourneuf and, while sliding, clear the ball out of bounds.

"The people here are great," both athletes remarked. They seemed to agree on everything. "Everyone respects you and they are always helping when they can."

Schmalz said, "Jack and Craig were really prepared for college soccer. They work out as hard as everybody else and it really shows in their playing."

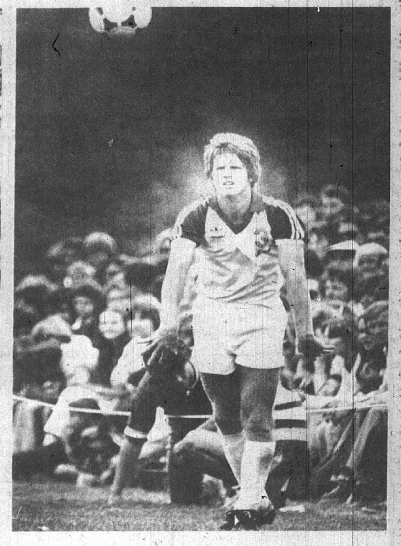

Of only two regular starting freshmen, Burnett is one. The other is Rune Bjoro from Os, Norway.

"I'm sure that these two will see a lot more playing time in the future," said Schmalz. "I'll say it again — there's nothing too nice to say about Jack and Craig."

Warriors turned Aces

Former Granite City South soccer Warriors Craig Kessler and Jack Burnett are now regulars as freshmen for the University of Evansville Purple Aces NCAA Division I soccer team. Burnett (right) is a starting fullback, while Kessler is a top substitute midfielder. Both are seen in action from last Sunday's game in Evansville with SIUE-Edwardsville.

U.S. kickers to host Canada

NEW YORK — The venues for the Northern Zone preliminary qualification soccer matches for the 1982 World Cup in Spain were completed today when the United States Soccer Federation announced that the United States will host Mexico in Ft. Lauderdale Nov. 22. The Federation has previously announced that the National Team of Canada would play the United States in Ft. Lauderdale Oct. 25.

Both matches will be staged in Ft. Lauderdale's Lockhart Stadium, with the Canada-U.S. game scheduled for a 7:30 p.m. start and the kickoff for the Mexico-USA contest set for 7 p.m. The CONCACAF (North, Central America, and the Caribbean) Northern Zone preliminaries will be co-hosted by the U.S. Soccer Federation and the City of Ft. Lauderdale.

"Playing both Canada and Mexico in Ft. Lauderdale will be of great benefit for us," said Gene Edwards, president of the USSF. "Not only will the familiar playing conditions be of benefit when we play Mexico, from an organizational standpoint the match will be easier to stage. We're pleased the National Team will play the matches in Ft. Lauderdale."

Lockhart Stadium, a natural grass facility that can accommodate 19,600 spectators, is the home field for the North American Soccer League's Ft. Lauderdale Strikers. The match with Canada will mark the first time a full international has ever been played in Florida.

The Northern Zone preliminary round, which will qualify two of the three nations from among Canada, Mexico, and the U.S. for the six-nation CONCACAF qualifying tournament for the World Cup in Spain, gets underway Oct. 18 when Canada hosts Mexico in Toronto. The U.S. will play its first match vs. the Canadians in Ft. Lauderdale, and then journey to Vancouver for a return engagement Nov. 1 in Empire Stadium.

The American nationals will then play the Mexican National Team in Mexico City Nov. 9. Mexico will host Canada in Mexico City Nov. 16 before taking on the U.S. in Ft. Lauderdale one week later.

The two qualifiers from the Northern Zone will join two teams each from the Caribbean Zone and Central American Zone in the six-nation CONCACAF tournament, to be staged in a still undetermined Central American nation next year. The two finalists in that event will then compete in the 24-nation World Cup in Spain in 1982.

Cougars having a bad week

EDWARDSVILLE — This just isn't Bob Guelker's week.

The week that began Sunday with a tie against the University of Evansville got worse here Tuesday night when Guelker's SIUE-Edwardsville soccer Cougars were beaten in double overtime by the University of Missouri-St. Louis 2-1. The loss dropped SIUE's record on the season to 6-3-1.

Guelker knew it wasn't going to be his night when he arrived at Cougar Field. The sprinkling system for the playing field was accidentally left on and the turf was extremely wet and muddy. Again, he knew it when his son Tim took a shot for SIUE-E at the 16:25 mark of the first half — and hit the goal post.

He knew it at the 29:26 mark of the half when Pat Malloy headed a shot that hit the crossbar of the Rivermen's goal and immediately after when Danny O'Keefe shot the rebound just wide to the right of the goal.

Guelker's fears were justified when, at the 46:54 mark of the second half, his team's defense failed to clear the ball out of its own end and UMSL's Tim Murphy booted it past Cougar goalie Ed Gettemeier.

Seconds later, SIUE's Mike Gauvain missed the net at the other end of the field after being set up with a perfect feed pass from a teammate. It just wasn't SIUE's night, you know.

TIM GUELKER of SIUE-Edwardsville (left) controls the ball near the University of Missouri-St. Louis goal Tuesday night as a Riverman tries to take it away. UMSL downed the Cougars 2-1 in double overtime.

Guelker's troops were finally given a reprieve and with it a faint glimmer of hope. But not until after the usual amount of frustration.

After UMSL's goal, the Cougars dominated the first half of the game — but couldn't find the back of the goal. They did, however, find just about every bit of the rest of it. At the 60:16 mark, the Cougars used pin-point passing to get Steve Gauvain open in front of the UMSL net. But his shot hit the INSIDE of the right goal post and bounced out. It went to SIUE's Tim Twillman who boomed a shot that hit and UMSL defenseman in the hand.

The resulting hand-ball call and penalty shot goal by Tim Guelker made the score 1-1.

Time for more frustration to enter the game.

The first overtime was uneventful. That is, except for the yellow card issued to UMSL head coach Don Dallas at the 91:55 mark. Also, at the 93:12 mark, Pat Malloy fired a headshot that sailed just wide of the goal. It didn't take UMSL long into the second overtime to get the game-winner. At the 100:06 mark, Pat McVey rifled a shot past Gettemeier from about 10 yards away.

South still tops

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South was the unanimous choice for the number one spot in this week's Press-Record prep soccer poll. The Collinsville Kahoks and Granite City North Steelers hold down the next two positions, just as they did last week. North has moved one point closer to Collinsville than it was last week. But below the top three, there was some shuffling going on.

Quincy Senior moved into the fourth spot, replacing Edwardsville, which dropped to fifth, after tying Belleville Althoff last week. Alton, which had been fifth last week, dropped out of the top five and is in the Honorable-Mention category for the first time this season. The Redbirds were easily beaten by Granite City North last week 4-0.

Other teams in the Honorable-Mention category are Cahokia, Alton

Outlaws here Sunday

GRANITE CITY — The World of Outlaws sprint cars will make their fourth appearance this Sunday evening Oct. 5 at the Tri-City Speedway.

Wo point leader and the reigning Kin of the Outlaws Steve Kinser of Bloomington, Ind., will be on hand, as Kinser won 23 feature races on the Wo circuit and a total of 30 wins on the year.

The last time the Outlaws were at the speedway was the second annual Illinois sprint championships in August as Doug Wolfgang of Sioux Falls, S.D., was the winner and set a new track record of 20.953 seconds on the half mile. Wolfgang is also expected to be on hand driving Doug Howells No. 4 Mecon Kalk Special.

"Sammin" Sammy Swindell of Memphis, Tenn., will be on hand driving a new sprinter owned by Lavern Nance of Wichita, Kans. Swindell lost his ride in the Federal Express sprinter. Danny Smith of Hendersonville, Tenn., driving the Kenny Rogers-Gambler Spl., will be on hand as Danny won the last sprint race held at the speedway on Sept. 20.

The gates are slated to open at 4:00 with the first race to begin at 6:00. This race will be the last race of the season at the Speedway.

South spikers fall

EAST ST. LOUIS — The Granite City South volleyball team lost a close match to East St. Louis Lincoln here Tuesday night by scores of 11-15, 15-10 and 12-15. The loss dropped South's dual record to 1-1 on the season.

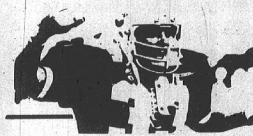

By contrast, the match was Lincoln's tenth of the season. "It's hard to get the girls ready when we start so late," said South coach Wilma Schulze. "Everyone else was starting their seasons three or four weeks ago. But we and North were still trying to get ready by practicing. And you can't get the same kind of experience in practices against your jayvees. They just can't mount an attack at you like you can get in a varsity match."

"We were trying to do some things different," she said. "We were trying to use multiple offenses and make some other switches. But because we start so late, it'll be hard to get everything down in time for the playoffs. We may have to go back to the old ways."

Other teams in the area begin their seasons in early to mid-September.

Troop 7 attends weekend campout

Boy Scout Troop 7, of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, participated in a weekend camping adventure, at Holy Family Seminary, in Overland, Mo.

Friday evening, seminary residents invited Troop 7 to watch the movie, "Brother of the Wind" and later treated them to soda and popcorn.

Saturday night, patrols performed campfire skits and on Sunday, they attended Mass at the Seminary Chapel. Father Robert O'Hara, M.S.P., rector of Seminary was celebrant. Father O'Hara was former pastor of Troop's sponsor, St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Troop activities included swimming, playing football and participating in a night tracking hike.

A swimming race was held by troop, with two scouts coming in first. A coin toss determined Reuben Garcia, to be first winner and Phil Kimbrel to be second winner.

Football teams were formed and captained by Mark Mainridge and Phil Kimbrel. Mainridge's team downed Kimbrel's team by score of 42-27, with Reuben Garcia, making saving touchdown.

Phil Kimbrel and Mark Mainridge, attempted to lose the troop during tracking hike and succeeded in their quest.

Individual activities included swimming and fishing, with Kevin Williamson, jumping into water fully dressed, in order to participate in swimming activities and Reuben Garcia, caught a fish using his bare hands instead of a fishing pole. All scouts were invited to use the seminary game room to play pool.

Phil Kimbrel celebrated his 14th birthday with troop at Seminary.

Tony Jordan, departed early Sunday morning to join his football team in action and Frank Scaturro, left to join his soccer team.

A number of skill awards and merit badge requirements were completed at campout, including making a bed on the ground and sleeping in it the entire night. The entire Troop met this requirement the first night.

Transportation for campout was provided by Larry Williamson, Lynette Hegge, Theodore Brazel, Carl Mainridge and Karl Markovich.

BUDGET AGAIN FOR HOUSING ATTORNEY

The Madison County Housing Authority adopted last week a 1980-81 budget including a $9,000 attorney fee that is being disputed by the Housing and Urban Development Department. Favoring a lesser fee, such as $7,400, HUD has cut off a $17,635 monthly subsidy until the issue is settled and until the 1979-80 MCHA budget is approved by HUD.

The Authority pays Attorney Casper Nighohossian $9,600 a year for legal work; it has enough reserve funds to continue operating housing units without the federal subsidy for at least the rest of this year, it was asserted at the meeting. Employee raises have been delayed by the disagreement.

55th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Baker

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ernest Baker, 1022 State St., Madison, observed their 55th wedding anniversary at a family dinner party held in the home of their son and daughter-in-law.

Hosting the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Baker of their home, 555 Chouteau Ave.

Mr. Baker and his wife, Alta Mae, were married on Sept. 23, 1925, in Dixon, Tenn., and have resided in the Quad-Cities since 1947. The couple have seven children, Harold Baker, Vojd Baker, Mrs. Alice Rogers, Ernest Baker, and Mona Pascheco, all of Granite City. Mrs. Cordessie Childers of Cahokia, and Bobby Baker of Gillespie. They also have 18 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Baker retired in 1969 from Granite City Steel after 33 years of service.

Egyptian lore is Travelers program

The program for the September meeting of Travelers Abroad was a lecture with slides arranged by Edmund Firner. He presented Eugene Smallman, a social studies teacher at Granite City High School, South, who told the club about his trip to Egypt one and a half years ago.

The name Egypt was given to the country by the Greeks who controlled this area of northern Africa at one time. The rulers adhered to the Christian Coptic religion. Some Egyptians speak Greek at present. The government wishes the country to be known as MISR. The numerous mosques and minarets testify to the fact that most Egyptians are Muslims — 93 percent. Visitors must remove or cover their shoes before entering these buildings. Many wealthy people build houses over the tombs of their relatives and go there to worship.

Great contrasts are seen between the old and the new in this country. There are many modern buildings, some skyscrapers, Mercedes and Rolls Royce automobiles and donkey carts. Buses are packed to overflowing and there is a housing shortage. However, much construction is carried on by men who carry soil from one place to another in baskets. As in many other parts of the world, meat for sale is hung out in the open. Beautiful art work is produced and sold in the bazaars. Luxurious rugs are a specialty there.

Ten million of Egypt's forty-one million people live in Cairo, the most populous city, where the average income is $520 per year and 30 percent of the people are unemployed. It is predicted that by the year 2,000 the country's population will have reached fifty million. Universal education is free through the university for those who can qualify scholastically and choose to attend. Most do not choose to do so. The predominant language is Arabic. Some signs are printed in English. They were formerly in French.

Egypt produces enough oil for its own use. Their chief agricultural products are cotton and citrus fruit. The annual rainfall in the Nile Delta is 8 inches. Some places it never rains and those regions must depend upon wells for water. The temperature in Cairo is 94 degrees at night to 124 degrees in the day.

Smallman showed excellent pictures of the sphinx and pyramids at Giza. Some showed the speaker-photographer — inside the rooms of the pyramids, the largest of which covers 13 acres at its base and was built 5,000 years ago. Once the outside surface was smooth but stones have been carried away, making the exterior rough. A sign reads "Forbidden to Climb Pyramid." Although Smallman did not attempt this feat, he said others did so after giving the guard a tip.

American tourism has increased many fold since friendly relations have been established between the governments of the two countries. U.S. citizens receive courteous and cordial treatment in this ancient country.

Guests at the meeting were Miss Pam Bell, John Heath, Mrs. Paul Kratz, Mrs. Ruth Lionberger, Mrs. Katherine Morris, Mrs. Loretta Oldham and Mrs. Florence Riedle.

Cookout fetes German guest

A country-western cookout was held during the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Turner, 4236 Division Street, for the Couples Class of the Adult II Department of the Grace Baptist Church.

Special guest of honor was Helmut Stieglitz of Wiesbaden, Germany. Mrs. Turner's brother, who has spent the past month visiting with them in Granite City. This was his first visit to the United States.

The theme of the party was chosen because of Herr Stieglitz's love of country-western music. Living close to both U.S. Army and Air Force installations in Wiesbaden, he has over the years become quite a fan of this type of music. While visiting here, he attended the Jeanie C. Riley show at Six Flags Over Mid-America. Entertainment at the cookout was provided by Monty Kindel, who has sung professionally in a gospel quartet, "The Believers". He did his impressions of several country-western stars, then sang several songs as requested by those in attendance. Herr Stieglitz also played the guitar and sang several songs in German.

Those attending were class members, Bill and Betty Holloway, John and Lois Chapline, Lynn and Faye Hester, Others and Carole Kindel, Eva Horn, Margaret Mayes, Marion and Martha Whitehead, Don and Paula Massie, John and Debbie Cox, Gary and Joleen Terrell, Gary Ingraham, and guests, Don and Dorothy Miller, Rev. Morris and Darlema Anderson, and Sylvia Bagon and children, Lisa and Tim.

Shower honors Mrs. Seitzer

A baby shower was given last week for Mrs. Cheryl Seitzer by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Denise Johns in her home, 6349 Honey Bee Court, Florissant, Mo.

The outdoor deck was decorated with a variety of nursery animals and streamers. A tree was adorned with pink, blue and white mini bows. Below the tree a crib gift from the future grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Seitzer, was decorated and used to hold the gifts.

On the adjoining patio the luncheon table was trimmed with yellow streamers, animals and a Teddy Bear cake, designed by the hostess.

Debbie Grieves assisted in directing the games and awarded prizes to Florence Edwards, Helen Champion, Joyce Bailey, Becky Edwards, Martha Evans and Michelle Evans of Collinsville.

Also attending the event were Lillian Schwendemann, Donna and Lisa Jones, Sharon and Leslie Hartzell, Leona Clark, Lisa Harris, of Belleville, Susan and Sarah Johns, and Mrs. Lena Seitzer.

Delay to attend state assembly

Plans were finalized for members and delegates of DelRay Rebekah Lodge 786 to attend the Rebekah state assembly in Springfield, Ill., on Oct. 11 through the 14th, at the lodge September meeting.

Linda Butts, noble grand of the local lodge, presided over the meeting and announced all October meetings will convene at 7:30 p.m.

Those to attend the assembly session include Zelma Finch, secretary of District 28, Lucille Veach, delegate, Daisy Burnett, secretary, and Hazel Wheeler, past noble grand. In other business, Mrs. Butts reminded the members of brothers night to be observed on Oct. 28, and a bazaar and dinner set for Nov. 15.

Members observing birthdays this month were accorded honors and cards were sent to those known to be ill.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Chapter plans rummage sale

Members of Eta Chapter, Phi Tau Omega Sorority, held their monthly dinner meeting last week at Rusty's Restaurant in Edwardsville. Miss Dolores Sheridan, Miss Eunice Hatcher, and Miss Mary Hassler were in charge of arrangements.

During a business meeting, Mrs. Mary Evelyn Vencho reported on plans for a chapter rummage sale to be held in October. Following dinner, games were played, and prizes were awarded to Miss Hilda Schroeder, Mrs. Shirley Morgan, Mrs. Gladys Waggoner, and Miss Kathryn Weddell.

Others attending included Mrs. Ann Tatum, Mrs. Lois Hodge, Mrs. Georgiana VanBuskirk, Miss Martha Ruth Thomas, Miss Betty Krug, and Mrs. Evelyn Todd.

It was announced that the next business meeting of the group is scheduled for Oct. 1, at the Elks Club in Granite City.

MR. AND MRS. DALE HIGGINS, 3253 Edgewood Ave., will observe their golden wedding anniversary at a reception Saturday, Oct. 4, at Engelbert Hall, 1013 Tenth St., Madison.

Mr., Mrs. Higgins to mark 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Higgins, 3253 Edgewood Ave., will receive guests Saturday at 6 p.m. at Engelbert Hall, 1013 Tenth St., Madison, in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the social event are members of the honoree's families.

Mr. Higgins and his wife, the former Marie Schewe, were married on Oct. 4, 1930, at Concordia Lutheran Church, 2300 Grand Ave. Both have resided in this area almost all their life.

Mr. Higgins was employed at Nesco for 30 years prior to his retirement in 1953. He holds membership in the American Legion Post 113, Amvets, Masonic Lodge 877, Aired Shrine, and Eagles Aerie. He also is a retired member of Machinist Local 660.

Mrs. Higgins is a member of Concordia Lutheran Church. She was an employee of Nesco for 30 years and later worked at Granite City Steel for 15 years before she retired in 1973.

Mike York is party honoree

A surprise 18th birthday party was given this week at Tacole to honor of Mike York, 2500 Morrison Road.

He is attending Park College in Kansas City, Mo. Guests attending included Mrs. Brenda York and Craig York, mother and brother of the honoree, Mrs. Pauline York, his grandmother and Jackie Adams, an aunt.

Others present were the Rev. and Mrs. Jeffrey Smith and children, Kim, Kris and Kerri, Mr. and Mrs. Lanzo Patterson and children, Brian, Danny and Tim, Rob Fyalka, Tammy Pounds, Dennis Page, Delora Cox, Tammy and Becky Jacobs, Ray and Rich Takmajian and Todd Plagemann.

Mrs. Jansen reviews book

Mrs. Harold Jansen reviewed the book, "A Walk Across America" by Peter Jenkins at a meeting of Bay View Reading Club hosted by Mrs. E. M. Arnovitz, last week.

She was introduced by Mrs. Dale Rea, program chairman for the day.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostess to a guest, Mrs. Edgar Meister of Olney, Ill., and members, Medames Wayne Carlisle, Elmer Gruen, Herman Huxel, Walter Klein, Alfred Krumsiek, Chris Louis, Lawrence McCauley, William Miller, Emil Mueller, James Stuart, Misses Lily Dod, Frances Lynch and Hazel Towery.
